EDITORIAL BRIEFS.

VOTE for the entire Republican ticket.

EVERY Republican should vote at this election.

REPUBLICANS, work like Beavers until election day.

WE cannot believe that Centre county will disgrace itself by defeating Daniel Rhoads.

CHAIRMAN HENSEL, sees the coming of the storm. He talks about a Democratic victory "if a fair count can be had."

IF Daniel Rhoads is elected to the State Legislature no one will have any fear of our county being disgraced at Harrisburg.

OUR advice to voters of Centre county in relation to the candidates for Assembly is to vote for Daniel Rhoads. "Let the best man win."

BEWARE of them! During the few days that intervene until the election Democratic papers will over-flow with false assertions about the Republican candidates. Do not heed them.

EVERY Republican should poll his vote for Dr. C. L. Addleman, of Milesburg, for Coroner. He is a good Republican and should receive the united support of the whole party.

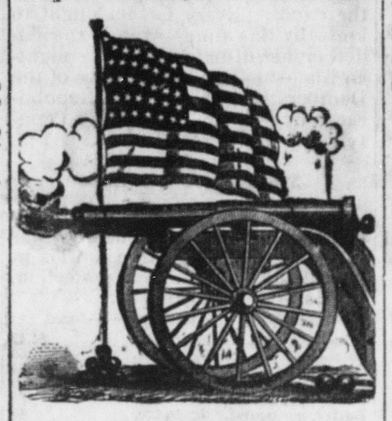
REPUBLICANS, be on your guard on election day. Democratic tricksters will be as thick as blackberries in July and their arts are terribly delusive. Vote the straight Republican ticket. The enemy will probably try to palm off Democratic or Independent Republican tickets on unwary voters, but if you are on your guard these arts of the deceivers will fall to the ground.

THERE were one hundred and seventeen failures reported by Bradstreet's last week, but as they occurred under the rule of the Republican party no notice need be taken of the fact.—Harrisburg Patriot.

Yes, but notice should be taken of the fact that the majority of them occurred since the Democratic victory in Ohio. That's what's the matter, and should the Democrats win in Pennsylvania and New York many more disastrous failures will be recorded. The Patriot has stepped on to thin ice.

GENERAL BUTLER'S policy in this campaign is, as usual, to make himself solid with all classes of the people. In reply to a letter asking what his policy will be toward the farmers, if elected, he at first tries to stir up antagonism between them and the landholders by asserting that the farmer has to bear an undue share of the taxes, and then says that all legislation tending to promote the interests of the agricultural classes will have his cordial support. In short, he wishes it understood that he has always been peculiarly interested in their behalf.

Republicans, to Your Guns!



RALLY 'ROUND THE FLAG!

We come before you, fellow Republicans, to say a last word about your duty to your country and to yourselves on Tuesday, November 7. The Republican party of the State offers to you a complete ticket against which no word can be said which will in the least detract from its high standing. Each man on the State ticket was a brave soldier and since the horrors of war have ceased each has maintained an exalted position as a citizen. They represent the party of true, honest and consistent principles. You cannot refuse to vote for them and do justice to yourselves. See that the State ticket which you poll on the 7th of November bears the name of James A. Beaver, W. T. Davies, William Henry Rawle, John M. Greer and Marriott Brosius.

Narrowing the confines of our circumspection in a slight degree, we invoke you by all you hold most dear to vote for Hon. Samuel H. Orwig, of Union county, for congressman from the district of which Centre county forms a part. The lawyer whose career is spotless, the high toned citizen with every desire subordinated to the one great longing to benefit his fellow citizens, the man so favored by nature, who will make a congressman of whom the people of the district will be proud; in fact, every consideration urges you to cast your ballot for Hon. Samuel H. Orwig for that high and exalted office. His opponent is neither a Republican or Democrat, but Mr. Orwig is pronounced in principles and his course in the halls of National legislature will be one resulting from positive and confirmed convictions. His voice in the interest of the people will give no uncertain sound.

A young, enterprising and laudably ambitious gentleman is offered for your suffrages for State Senator—Cyrus Gordon, of Clearfield county. He transcends in all that learning and education, coupled with ripe experience, can endow an individual. He has a claim, strong and unwavering, upon the votes of Centre County, as his youthful days were spent here, and in and around Bellefonte many of his nearest relatives still live. His opponent is not a popular man. He has been tried and found wanting in honesty, and a record of many black deeds stains his name—giving him the numerous uncomplimentary titles, "Nuturalization Fraud," "Coffee Pot Wallace," etc. Squash him flatter than a pancake on the 7th of November.

A county ticket, never before equalled in this vicinity and perhaps not in the State, claims your attention. Let the finger of criticism, if it can, point at one of them. It will fall palsied in the effort and praise will take its place. It is unnecessary for us to expatiate on the merits of Daniel Rhoads, one of the candidates for Assembly. He is large in body and in heart. His honesty corresponds to his physical proportions. During his extensive business career he has employed many of the sons of toil in this and other counties and they all testify that they never served a more kind or considerate employer; indeed, some of them would rather work for him than for any other man in the county. He is splendidly fitted for a member of Asssembly; indeed, his business talent and experience would find even greater usefulness in Congress and he has been frequently mentioned for the latter position. But he has been nominated for the legislature. Look, Democrats and Republicans, at the very inferior specimens of humanity that the Democrats have sent from this district and ask your inner consciences if a change is not desirable. He is so vastly better fitted for Assembly than Meyer and Hunter, his opponents, that we hesitate even to institute a comparison.

There is another Republican candidate for the same position—Geo. R. Speiglemeyer, of Spring Mills. His neighbors and friends speak well of him. He will represent the interests of "the other end of the county" as it should be represented. As a fitting consort to Daniel Rhoads, we believe that the two gentlemen will be elected, and that our county will be honored by their presence in the next State legislature. The fates decree it; seal the decrees of fate with your votes.

D. B. Kunes, of Liberty township, posesses qualifications which splendidly fit him for the duties of Jury Commissioner. Vote for him and you will have no cause to repent of it.

There are many reasons we might urge in favor of the election of Dr. C. L. Addleman, of Milesburg, for coroner. It is a comparatively unimportant office, but Dr. Addleman is a representative physician and a true Republican, and is entitled to every Republican vote and all the Democratic votes that those who cast them are independent enough to forego party for the sake of merit. His place of residence is central and all parts of the county can be reached by him at short notice.

The entire ticket—State, district and county—is such as to elicit admiration and confidence. There is no cause for scratching. Let the whole ticket be voted with every candidate's name carefully scanned to see that they are the gentlemen whom we mention above. Then shall your sleep be sound and your conscience untroubled throughout all the coming year.

NOTWITHSTANDING all the noise made by the Independents and the quiet work of the Democrats there is no doubt of the triumphant election of Gen. Beaver. The mask has been torn from the kickers and they can no longer disguise their purpose. They at first claimed to be good Republicans and to be using their endeavors to purify and exalt the party, but now their leaders say they want to defeat the Republican party and help elect the Democratic candidate. But few Republicans are ready to take this step. But a small proportion of the rank and file of the Republican party have grievances and desire to destroy the grand party that saved our country. The Independent cause is losing ground every day and will continue to do so until election day. Beaver will be triumphantly elected.

A COMPLIMENT to Wallace from the Philadelphia North American: It is not necessary to follow the utterances of Mr. Wallace, who may have forgotten, as the public has not, that the wholesale business of fraudlent naturalization papers was long ago laid at his door, and still occupies that position. It is not for William A. Wallace to talk about Republican frauds. It is not for him to arraign any man or any party on charges of corruption. He is a prisoner standing in the dock, more than suspected of lack of scruple in political warfare. A thousand penny-a-liners writing for a thousand years cannot wash his record so as to make it presentable.

THE Philadelphia Bulletin charges Boss McClure with being in cahoot with the free trade advocates. It would not be surprising if it should turn out that the Bulletin is correct in its charges.

The Political Situation.

The Republican party in Pennsylvania is met for the first time in its history with organized rebellion. A respectable, but by no means large, minority of that party, ignoring its grand history, and its grander achievements during the past quarter of a century, have raised the standard of mutiny, and propose to hand it over, bound and betrayed, into the hands of its hereditary enemy; for it is not within the range of reasonable probability to suppose that the ticket headed by Mr. Stewart can be elected.

And for what purpose has this political conspiracy been formed? Our Independent Republican friends frankly and fairly concede that in a personal, political, military and moral sense the candidate for Governor, of the Harrisburg Republican Convention, General James A. Beaver, is unexceptional. As a gallant and brave soldier, his wounds and his record alike attest his loyalty. As a Republican his party fealty no other good Republican will doubt. As a lawyer he stands at the head of a bar that has given to the State judiciary some of its brighest ornaments and to the Executive chair no less than four incumbents. And as a Christian gentleman, with all that term implies, he is without reproach. In saying this we would not disparage either of the other distinguished candidates, but with all the qualities considered that ought to satisfy the most punctillious political reformer, these Republican dilettanti posing before the community as reformers propose to secure his defeat, knowing at the same time that they can not elect their own ticket. They indulge freely in such stock phrases as Bossism, Cameronism and the like, and claim to justify their political conspiracy by the absurdity of destroying a party in order to reform it. Senator Cameron is not a candidate, and hence he is not a proper subject for discussion in this connection, if it were otherwise, it would be strange indeed that either he or his distinguished father should need a vindication, at the hands of the Republican party of Pennsylvania. This conspiracy against the party is new only in form. It was tried several years ago, by a triumvirate of bigger men than are now engaged in it, and in order to strike at Pennsylvania's Senator, then as now, they tried not only to defeat, but to blacken the character of one of Pennsylvania's truest, bravest and best beloved sons, Gen. John F. Hartranft. In the interest of harmony what has not the regular organization been willing to concede? The leaders of the Independent movement claim that the people are with them, but when they are taken at their word, and when the candidates of a convention held regularly and in accordance with custom and party usage, are willing to set aside its action and refer the question back directly to the people, they refuse to stand by the issue they themselves have provoked.

If anything more than this be necessary to drive from their support every fair-minded Republican, surely it is the shameless, and spiteful letter of State Chairman McKee, in which with deliberation and with an unmanly and despicable purpose he compares such men as General Grant and Senator Cameron with Guiteau and Wilkes Booth. To retrieve such a mistake and cover up the real animus of this conspiracy, Senator Stewart comes forward with the ridiculous offer of a public challenge to Gen. Beaver. What is there to discuss between two gentlemen, each claiming to be a Republican, that would not result in disaster to the Republican cause and fill the hearts of Democrats with pure delight?

As the campaign progresses the true inwardness of this Independent movement must be seen and exposed. It is scarcely respectable nonsense, much less sense, to claim that the leaders of the Independent Republican departure are all virtuous, and the leaders of the Regular Republican party are all steeped in vice and corruption. Sensible people will not believe the pretensions of leaders who pose before the community as the heralds of a political millenium, neither will true republicans forget the grand history of their party, nor stand idly by and see it slaughtered in the house of its friends.

The Republican Alternative.

Pennsylvania is a Republican State. It should be officered by Republicans. It has been within the choice of Republicans to say who should administer the affairs of the State for upwards of twenty years. It is for Republicans to say who shall administer its affairs during the next four years. Practically the choice of the people is limited to two sets of candidates, one put forward by the Republicans and the other by the Democrats. At the head of the one stands Gen. Beaver, at the head of the other, Mr. Pattison. Between the candidates and their respective colleagues the people of Pennsylvania must choose.

If there were no other ticket in the field—were it a square, stand-up fight between Republican men and measures and Democratic men and measures—there could be to-day no doubt of the result. The Republican candidates would be triumphantly elected. But there is a divison in the Republican party, and this division contributes an element of uncertainty to the canvass. It does not, however, in any respect modify the Republican alternative, which is Beaver or Pattison. Every Republican who votes at all will vote either for Beaver in fact or for Pattison in fact. He may vote for some other man by name, other than Beaver, but in act and fact he will in that case vote for Pattison. To whatever casuistry he may resort to cover his design he cannot escape the alternative. There is no halfway house where the voter can halt and lay aside his responsibility. The issue is Republican control or Democratic control, and the men who prefer Republican control will vote for Gen. Beaver and the entire Republican ticket.

Why should not Republicans vote for Gen. Beaver? Why should any Republican refuse to vote for the ticket which he honors by his leadership? From Gen. Beaver to Brosius every candidate on that ticket served his country as a soldier in a time of great trial. Every man on that ticket bears a good repute among men for honesty and capability. If these be good men—and it has not been denied by anybody—and if good government can come only by prefering good men, then no Republican can justify himself in voting directly or indirectly for Pattison.

Why should any Republican vote for Pattison? What influence and what policy do he and the men on the ticket with him represent? His real sponsors in Philadelphia are among the most tricky of Democratic politicians. From Pattison to Elliott not one of the candidates was other than a neutral or an obstructionist during the war for National life. None of them served in the Union army. At least three of them were in sympathy with the rebels rather than with the Federal government. Some of them made speeches during the war in which sneers at the government were introduced as sauce. To cause such men to be preferred before men of unquestionable patriotism and honor will, if consummated, be regarded as a crime in a time to come. But this disgrace must not be consummated. The Republicans of Pennsylvania can prevent it, and unless lost to all sense of honor will prevent it.

STEWART is out of the race, and we doubt if he was ever in it.

He Should be Elected.

Every Republican in the county, and indeed every voter who desires to vote for the best man, should cast a vote for Daniel Rhoads, our candidate for the State legislature. Mr. Rhoads is one of the best men who was ever nominated for that position in this county, and his election will be more of a gain for the people than for the candidate himself. He will reflect honor upon the county and the constituency that elects him. He is the kind of man the people should feel proud to honor—a man of irreproachable character, of great moral worth—a man "of the people and from the people"—a great friend to the poor, as many can testify who have been generously assisted through his noble generosity—a man of ability and great worth. Words fail us to do justice to his nobility of character. Such men as Daniel Rhoads are seldom selected to serve the people in any capacity, and when they are taken the people should show their appreciation, and gladly rally to their support. The party that selects such a man should be encouraged in such a course by his triumphant election. Mr. Rhoads never sought the nomination. He was selected by men who knew his worth, and only consented to remain a candidate at the earnest solicitation of friends of all shades of political opinion. We cannot believe his defeat possible, but if such a result is reached it will be a great loss to the county—a foul disgrace. We do not say this of Daniel Rhoads because he is a Republican. We cannot look upon our friend as a party man at all, but as the people's choice, the people's candidate. We shall be proud to vote for him and hope every man in the county will honor himself by a similar act. No man can or will ever regret that he voted for Daniel Rhoads. No man will ever say, "I voted for Rhoads, but I am sorry for it." It is impossible to find a better man for any office within the gift of the people than our noble-hearted, generous friend.

D. B. KUNES, our candidate for Jury Commissioner, is more sure of an election than it is usually the good fortune of Republicans of Centre county to be, but while his election is certain Republicans should see to it that he gets a full vote. He is an active Republican, has always been a good worker for the party and would make a good officer. He is a good fellow any way you take him. Vote for D. B. Kunes for Jury Commissioner.

HONEST men in office is what every good citizen desires. Such a man is Daniel Rhoads, our candidate for legislature, and the people of Centre county never had the opportunity of voting for a more worthy man. He is a man of the people, and if elected, as he ought to be, will look after the interests of the county faithfully and well. The voters of Centre, irrespective of party, will do a wise act by sending Daniel Rhoads to the Legislature.

WHEN the Democrats went out of power in Pennsylvania they left a debt of $35,000,000. Of this great load the Republican administration has paid $17,000,000. It has also repealed the three mill tax on real estate thereby saving $65,000,000 to the people. In view of this great reduction and saving it is the duty of every voter to help keep in power this great progressive party. Vote for General Beaver and the whole ticket if you would have a wise, economical government.

THE republicans of Kentucky expect to gain several congressmen at the approaching election. In several other southern states the democratic party has begun to disintegrate and the chances for the election of a number of independents who will co-operate with the republicans are good. Our democratic friends are probably a little previous in claiming a majority in the next congress.

Poetry.

FREEDOM'S SONS.

When Freedom sat of old on granite crags.
Her radiance oft obsured by scurrying mists,
And bathed her feet in lightning-laden clouds,
Which muttered thunders through the startled air,
The Old North worshiped at her sandled feet.
And she beamed gently on her worshipers;
Gently, but firmly, influenced their lives;
Gently, but firmly, taught them how to live;
Gently, but firmly, taught them all she knew;
Gave them the laws, with all their metes and bounds,
Which made them freemen—sons indeed of Her's—
Clothed in God's shape, worthy of Him and Her.

What deeds were theirs—these stalwart sons of Her's!
They fought her battles over many a field.
And showered her blessings over many a land;
They fought the strong oppressors of the weak;
They fought and freed the slave from galling chains;
They fought the Wrong, upheld the Holy Right;
They gave men safety, industry, and wealth;
They gave men learning, and they spread the law;
They gave men science, morals, and the arts;
They builded Nations mightier than of old;
They broadened and they lifted man himself;
They tore the stellar secrets from the heavens;
From all the realms of Nature snatched the crown;
Read backward through the Ages all the Past;
Read forward the analogies to Come!

Then they grew blind—these noble sons of Her's.
Vaunting themselves self-satisfied they grew;
Thought themselves gods—adored themselves as such;
Forgat their Mother, Freedom; dreamed strange dreams;
Begat all sorts of crotches, creeds, and schisms.
They thought; "By chemic potencies, by steam,
By telegraphic agencies, and press,
Man has become omnipotent at last!
He, ever present, is in all the world;
And by his penetration everywhere
Omniscient as a god of some degree!"
And then because, there was not room for all
To rule—nor for all notions to prevail—
Waxed angry, jealous of "the powers that be"—
A ready prey to deep designing men—
Till bitter quarrels led to plain revolt,
Which at the last endangered Freedom's Cause!

Men of the North, what madness of the hour
Hath wrought this blindness to your mental eyes?
Can ye not see destruction looms ahead?
That strength is wasted by internal strife?
Must the Old Ship of State go on to wreck?
Shall panic seize her vigorous, trusty crew,
While Thank-God-Harbor opens spreading arms?
Are the old pilots, trained and skillful men,
Losing your faith and confidence in them?
Are the old land marks, never known to fail,
Less to be trusted now and lost to view?
Are ye bewitched, and have the Sirens power
To lure ye on, with songs, to certain doom?
Is this a time for mutinous dispute
Of leadership and "isms," with Death in sight?
Be warned in time! The Night comes on apace;
Those lights ahead are false; she's off her course,
Flying, with all sail set, toward the rocks!
Come, come! All hands! The past shall be forgot.
See to the sheets and brace—lively now!
'Bout ship, brave boys! All ready! Down your helm!
Let go and haul!
She wavers!
Now she comes—
The gallant ship that never yet missed stays!
She minds her helm—her sails fill out again—
She gathers headway—See, she claws away!
The danger's past—The Old Ship's safe again!
Ye have done well your duty! Pipe for grog!
Eight bell's, my hearties! Send the watch below!

DEMOCRATIC CANT!

Why Internal Revenue Taxation Is Not Reduced.

REPUBLICAN EFFORT AND DEMOCRATIC OBSTRUCTION—CONTEMPTIBLE DEMOCRATIC INSINCERITY SHOWN BY THE RECORD—A PALTRY DEMOCRATIC EXCUSE.

Probably for want of something better to say, the Democratic leaders, North and South, are getting off a fearful amount of cant concerning internal revenue reductions. That they are absolutely insincere in this can very easily be demonstrated from the record.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

The burden of the whine of these Democratic leaders is over the fact that the present Republican Congress at its first session did not reduce internal revenue taxation. Well suppose it didn't, what of it! Does that indicate that it will not make such reduction at its second session? The point to look at is whether it made any effort in that line—whether it made any progress toward it; and all the while these canting Democratic leaders growl at what they call "Republican disregard of the demand of the people for reducing taxation." They know that President Arthur in his annual message to Congress, and his Republican Secretary of the Treasury, both recommended such reduction; that a bill to reduce internal revenue taxation to the amount of $16,892,880 to take effect May 1, 1883—or say $23,000,000 in all—came from the Republican committee on ways and means, and was passed by a Republican House at that session by a vote of 127 yeas to 80 nays, despite all the efforts of the Democrats to defeat it. An analysis of this vote shows that of the 127 yeas only 23 were Democrats, while 104 Republicans voted for its passage; while as many as 64 Democrats voted against it. In other words this vote shows that the House Democrats were hostile to this internal revenue reduction in the proportion of three to one, while the Republicans favored it by about three to one!

Again, when this bill went to the Republican Senate a Republican committee reported it back to that body so amended as to make the total contemplated internal revenue tax reduction about $40,000,000 instead of $23,000,000. Why did not the Senate pass this bill so amended? Simply because of the determined opposition of Democratic Senators, one of whom (Mr. Beck) declared that he and his Democratic colleagues would fight it until next winter before they would let it pass! And they did fight it up to the last days of the session. The very last time a Republican Senator strove to get the bill up, of the twenty-six Senators who desired immediate action upon it not one was a Democrat! Yet they have the effrontery to complain that the Republicans passed no internal-revenue reduction bill at the last session of Congress when, in spite of Democratic hostility, they did pass a bill of $23,000,000 in the House, and would have passed the bill, amended to $40,000,000, through the Senate but for the most obstinate Democratic obstruction and prevention.

"TOO THIN TO WASH."

Upon what special plea can these Democratic Congressmen in either House attempt to justify their conduct? Some of them claim that they are in favor of abolishing all the internal revenue taxes, and therefore would not vote for any "half-way measure." It was "whole hog or none" with them. A pretty plea, truly! And so, because a Democratic minority in both branches of Congress is not permitted to have its own ill-considered way, therefore it would prevent a responsible Republican Administration from securing, and a responsible Republican Congress from maturing and passing, a bill to relieve the people of $40,000,000 annually of taxation. That is a kind of Democratic logic that the people who want to be relieved to the extent of $40,000,000 a year will find it hard to understand. Pursuing the inquiry, the people will ask, "What has the Democratic party ever done for us in the way of taking off the burden of taxation which a Democratic rebellion put upon us?"

WHY DID THEY DO NOTHING?

What have the Democrats ever done in the matter of reducing internal-revenue taxation at any time? In the winter of 1878-'79 they controlled the House while the Republicans controlled the Senate, and between the two they passed a bill, which was signed by a Republican President, reducing internal-revenue taxation to the tremendous extent of $9,000,000! That was the act of March 1, 1879. But both branches of Congress were Democratic in 1878-'81. Why did the Democrats then fail to pass any act reducing internal revenue? There was the chance if they were so inclined! Why did they embrace it? What insincerity and canting hypocrisy is this, which pretends a desire to sweep away all internal-revenue taxation, and yet not only has never by itself accomplished anything toward such reduction, but has actually prevented others from doing it, and now has the brazen effrontry to find fault with them for not doing it?

WHAT THE REPUBLICANS HAVE DONE.

What, on the other hand, has the Republican party done in this matter of internal revenue reduction? Let its record answer. Under the act of July 13, 1865, it reduced the annual internal revenue taxation $54,000,000; by that of March 2, 1867, it made another annual reduction of $40,000,000; by that of February 3, 1868, another of $45,000,000; by that of July 14, 1860, another of $55,000,000; by allowing the income tax to expire December 31, 1870, another of $13,500,000; by the act of June 6, 1872, another of $20,651 000—making in all a total annual reduction of internal revenue taxes by Republicans alone of $262,156,000 against the $9,000,000 reduced by the act of March 1, 1879, for which the Democrats can claim only a part of whatever credit there was for the passage of the insignificant measure.

WHAT IS TO BE LOOKED FOR?

With such a record in the past, what can be expected of the canting Democratic party if placed in power? Nothing. But the record of the Republican party is a record of things done, not of things not done. There is not a doubt that the present Republican congress will, at the next session, do all that can be done against Democratic oppression to pass the bill now pending before the Senate, and remove all the burden of internal revenue taxation from the people that can then be safely removed with a due regard for all interests, and without running the risk of a deficit in the Treasury to meet the expenditures for carrying on the government. And the succeeding congress will remove still more, if it sees its way to do so without committing such a legislative blunder as the Democratic leaders would like to "assist" them in making, and afterward blame them for. The people know from experience that they can trust Republican statesmanship to give all need d relief; and they know that Democratic cant and insincerity are not to be relied on.

Facts for the Farmers.

Under protection the value of farm products has amazingly increased, as shown by the following terse statement from an exchange: "In 1816 one bushel of corn would buy one pound of nails. In 1882 one bushel of corn would buy fifteen pounds of nails. In 1816 it took from twenty to eighty dozens of eggs to buy one bushel of salt. In 1882 one dozen eggs would do the same thing. In 1816 it required sixty-four bushels of barley to buy one yard of broadcloth. In 1882 five bushels of barley would do the business. In 1816 it required one bushel of wheat to purchase one yard of calico. In 1882 one bushel of wheat would buy thirty-five yards of a better article. In 1816 a pair of woolen blankets cost as much as a cow. In 1882 a cow would buy from six to twenty pairs of blankets superior in every way."

The moralist says: "Every man is occasionally what he ought to be perpetually." Then again some men are perpetually what they ought to be only occasionally.

Beauty and bashfulness are often united. Yet the prettiest maiden is admired for her cheek.

"No Irish Need Apply."

Upon looking about us we see that there has been little disposition to cast Democratic votes for Irishmen. Democratic managers have forgotten the Irishmen on all days of the year except election day, and if a candidate on that day their voters have forgotten to vote for him then.

Remember Daniel O'Barr who was nominated for state Treasurer by the democrats and was beaten eighty thousand votes because he was an Irish Catholic.

It seems Irish-Americans are beginning to learn that the Democratic party is not the party they should train with. In Indiana the Irish revolt against Democracy is very pronounced, as will be seen by the following:

THE IRISH REVOLT.

Says the Decatur (Ind.) Republican:

"The Irish revolt is destined to be a very serious affair to the Democratic party in Indianapolis and in several cities throughout the State. The accessions to the Republican party from the Irish are greater this year than ever known before. At Greencastle an Irish Republican club, numbering fifty-six voters, has just been organized, and it is growing each day. John Murphy, for many years a prominent Democrat of that city, has joined the club, and, with his fellow-countrymen, is determined in his support of the Republicans. In Indianapolis there has grown to be a large Irish Republican vote, and lately the Democrats have received a blow from the Irish element that has sent them to their knees. Rev. Father D. O'Donaghue, of St. John's Cathedral, chancellor of the Vincennes diocese and secretary of Bishop Chatford, has declared himself a Republican, and is bitterly opposed to the Democratic party. At the great Harrison meeting, held there recently, he was one of the vice-presidents, and at the mentioning of his name a storm of applause broke forth. The Jefferson club, composed of Irishmen who have come over to the Republican party, now numbers, nearly 300 voters, and new names are being added every day. They are active workers, and especially hostile to young Bill English, who is running for Congress.

DEMOCRACY HOSTILE TO THE IRISH.

The Indianapolis Times prints an address to the Irish American voters of Indiana, just issued by the Irish Republican Club of Indianapolis, from which the following extracts are made:

"The facts that have now become history show that the Democratic party, while professing friendship for us, has always been indifferent or hostile to our real interests."

THE GREAT "KNOW-NOTHING" STATES.

In 1856 the Know-nothing platform declared that "Americans must rule America," and that proposition received in round numbers 500,000 votes in the Southern States, and about 350,000 votes in all the remainder of the Union. And the only State carried by the candidates upon that platform was the Democratic State of Maryland. Kentucky alone cast more votes for that doctrine than the great populations of Maine, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Vermont, Ohio, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, and Iowa combined. Kentucky cast for that doctrine 67,416 votes, while the combined vote of the States mentioned was 67,398. The vote of Tennessee in favor of that declaration was within about 1,000 of that of Kentucky, and that of Virginia was but little less. These were the aristocrats of the South who despised a poor foreigner, and who afterward became and are now Democrats. So strong has always been the feeling against foreigners in these Democratic States that few of them live there to-day or ever have lived there.

THE IRISH MASSACRE AT LOUISVILLE.

We find, further, that the most dreadful massacre of our countrymen by "Know-nothings" that ever occurred was at Louisville, Ky., at a time when most of the wealthiest citizens of that city were members of the order, and Humphrey Marshall, afterward a confederate general in a celebrated campaign against Garfield, was their candidate for Congress. There is not the least doubt but almost all who were engaged in killing our countrymen on that bloody 6th of August soon became Democrats, as did the great majority of "Know-nothings" South as well as North.

ENGLISH "FREE TRADE."

We observe, further, in the national Democratic platforms of 1876 and 1880, as well as in any that preceded them, an explicit declaration of the old cotton growers' and English manufacturers' doctrine of free trade. England destroyed the protective tariff of Ireland, and thus helped to make us exiles from the beautiful island of our nativity, and cannot, when we recall the woes of that unhappy country, vote with the Democratic party which has been England's ally in support of that policy. Looking at Ireland, the sad effects of this English and Democratic doctrine are seen in every step of her downward progress. Before the so-called union a census of Ireland shows 8,000 weavers in Cork, 5,000 manufacturers of woolen goods in Dublin, 3,000 blanket makers in Balbrigan, 2,000 calico weavers in Wicklow, 1,000 persons engaged in making flannel, and an immense number in the manufacture of linen. England removed the last protective tariff in 1826, and absolute free trade began. In 1840 but 300 persons were engaged in all the manufactures of Cork, where there had been 8,000 weavers alone. The loom was rapidly disappearing from the island, and the days of Ireland's prosperity and happiness were gone. Until then the work has gone on until Ireland's people are starving, while her fertile soil helps to feed hungry English landlords and no less hungry English looms.

DEMOCRACY AND ENGLAND HAND IN HAND.

In this work England and the Democratic party of America have been in sympathy throughout, and even yet English free trade documents are distributed here by Democratic campaign committees. Democratic success here would bring joy to Manchester, Birmingham and Sheffield, and strengthen the hand that destroyed the prosperity of Dublin and Cork.

Political Facts.

The significant fact that every candidate on the Republican ticket in the State of Pennsylvania fought to preserve this Union, while not one of the candidates on the Democratic ticket struck a blow for its preservation, is beginning to attract the attention of the old Union soldiers of the country. They will remember it at the polls.

What would the Democratic party amount to without the solid Southern States? What made them solidly Democratic? Bulldozing, fraud and political murders! Why were these agencies employed? To regain the "lost cause!" If ever that party gets the power, the old soldiers of the Union and the "mudsills of the North," as they term the Northern laborers, will be taught the true meaning of the "lost cause," and be considered hardly good enough to scrape Democratic boots on.

"The impartial historian will record the fact that the colored people of the South have contended for their rights with a bravery and gallantry that is worthy of the highest commendation. Being, unfortunately, in dependent circumstances with the preponderance of the wealth and intelligence against them in some localities, yet they have bravely refused to surrender their honest convictions even upon the altars of their personal necessities"—Congressman Lynch, of Mississippi.

The total amount of currency in the United States in 1860 was $207,102,477, or $6.58 per capita for the population of 31,443,321; in 1882 there is $788,288,440, which gives the present (estimated) population of 52,799,000, more than double that amount, or $15.12 for every man, woman and child in the Nation.

The Miners' Journal, of Pottsville, Pa., truly says: How disgusting is the hypocritical whine of Democratic leaders over Republican assessments. * * * They have but one object in criticising the Republican committee now, and that is to get into a position where they can again levy the assessments themselves.

The Congressional candidate of the Free Trade Democratic party who pretends to favor the protection of labor is simply "stealing the livery of heaven to serve the devil in."

West Virginia is better worth bragging about than Ohio. There is solid comfort in it, so to speak. West Virginia has come back to Republicanism to stay. Ohio will be back bye-and bye.

Trot out national issues if you would put General Apathy to flight and the army of stay-at-homes in motion.

The Questions of the Hour.

First—Dare the people trust the Democratic party with control of the next Congress and the consequent power to declare the next Presidential count?

Second—Dare the people indorse the Democratic party in its denial to the people of one-third of the States the right to vote and to have that vote fairly counted?

Third—Dare the people trust the Democratic party of free trade with the control of Congress and the consequent revision of the tariff against the interests of protected labor?

Fourth—Dare the people trust the Democratic party with the control of Congress and the consequent power to burden the people with the payment of the monstrous Southern claims?

Fifth—Dare the people trust the Democratic party with the control of Congress and consequent power to again display the legislative incompetence which distinguished the recent years in which they held it?

Sixth—Dare the people trust the Democratic party with the control of Congress and the consequent power to throttle and starve the Government into submission to their revolutionary demands?

If the people dare trust the Democratic Party to this extent, then they may as well say farewell to Peace, Prosperity, Freedom, and Republican Government. That is all—but it is everything.

Don't Throw your Vote Away.

Every voter who believes in protecting agricultural, mechanical, or any other sort of labor, should cast his vote, not for the solitary Democratic Congressional candidate who claims to be, or actually is in favor of such protection, but for the Republican Congressional candidate, because his whole party is committed to the protection of labor, just as the Democratic party is committed to free-trade and the degradation of labor. In a Democratic free-trade House, a "protection" Democrat, if any such exists, would have about as much chance as a floating cockle shell in a gale of wind.

The man with a cheap Derby hangs it on the peg, but the man with a Derby lined like a coffin and bearing the imprint of the swell hatter always lays it down so that he who runs by may read the legend of its maker.

A Dangerous Trick.

There is a story told of a Seminole Indian during the Florida war, hiding behind an old tree stump, near a lonely farm-house, imitating the gobble of a turkey to lure the farmer from his field-work, and of the farmer's young son making a wide detour and shooting the Indian dead in the very act of rising to murder the father who had drawn near to bag the turkey. That's just what the Democratic candidates in Pennsylvania are doing—imitating from the stump the gobble of a turkey—pretending to favor "protection," when every one knows their party is committed to "free-trade." They may fool some of the farmers, but not many, and even these last may yet be saved the Democratic scalping knife by the sharper vision of their sons. Every farmer ought to know by this time—even if the Tilden cipher dispatches didn't enlighten him—the fraudulent tones of the Democratic "gobble." The Republican party is "the turkey" for Pennsylvania protectionists.

Figures for Farmers.

In 1816, judging by the following figures, the American farmers' lot was "not a happy one." His condition in 1882, thanks to Republican protection, is princely by comparison:

Products.	1816.	1882.
Wheat	25c. to 44c.	$1.42
Corn	12½c. to 20c.	.60
Oats	15c.	.50
Eggs, per dozen	5c.	.15
Barley, per bushel	25c.	.80
Butter, per pound	5c to 12c.	.40
Cheese, per pound	8c. to 6c.	.13
Cows, per head	$16 to $20	$20 to $100
Cattle, per yoke	$25 to $45	$20 to $100
Hay, per ton	$3 to $5	$10 to $20
Straw, per ton	$2 to $4	$7 to $16
Carriage horses, per span	$150 to $200	$500 to $1,200
Sheep, per head	50c to 75c.	$1.50 to $2.50
Farm labor, per month	$3 to $8	$12 to $25

The following were the prices in 1816 and 1882 of a few of the articles purchased by the farmer:

Article.	1816.	1882
Cost of steel, per pound	17c.	10c.
Saw-plate, per pound	40c.	26c.
Nails, per pound	12½c.	4c.
Wool blankets, per pair	$10 to $20	$3 to $10
Cotton cloth	30c to 50c.	4c. to 12c.
Calico, per yard	25c. to 20c.	4c. to 12c.

What the President.

The Christian Intelligence takes proper interest in the good repute and exemplary walk of our Chief Magistrate:

It is due to President Arthur, especially as the executive head of this nation, to note his denial of the story which has been going the rounds of the press, that he spent a recent Sunday on a fishing excursion. He replied to an inquiry on the subject, that he had never done such a thing in his life, and "would no more think of doing so than to go through the streets without his clothes." And his subsequent action in declining an invitation to a Sunday dinner party, given in his honor in Newport, and instead thereof going to the most conservatively orthodox church in the place, has emphasized his testimony to the sacredness of the Lord's day, and the respect due to the religious principle of those whom he represents.

To Workingmen.

The great Berlin professor, Du Bois Raymond, announces as the great riddles of the world:

1. The nature and essence of matter and force.
2. The origin of motion.
3. The origin of life.
4. The apparent design of nature.
5. The origin of consciousness.
6. The origin of national thought and language.
7. The freedom of the will.

Any philosopher profound enough, can easily guess all these riddles, but all the philosophers of the world put together cannot for the life of them guess the greatest riddle of them all, which is this:

8. How the protected American workingman can bring himself to vote the free trade-fettered-labor Democratic ticket!

Number One.

Not only is America the best land in the world for the laborer—who here is honored and in Europe is down-trodden and despised—but it is admitted by an English statesman (Mulhall) to be the richest in the world! His estimates of the value of property in the three richest countries are:

The United States	$50,000,000,000
England	44,100,000,000
France	37,700,000,000

From this it will be seen what the Republican party has done for this Nation. Be sure to keep it in power—especially in Congress—if you would "look after number one."

Fortunate Farmers.

The census of 1880 tells us that there are in the United States 4,008,907 farms, of which number only 139,241 comprise less than ten acres. This shows what an amazing country is this—a country of large farms the owners of which not only make more than a good living off them, but, with the rapid increase of population, become rich by the rise in value of their lands. But how long would this continue to be the case were the Democrats to obtain control of the government, with their "Free Trade" notions?

Placing the adjective: Clara (looking at the bonnets, etc.): "Don't you think they are very handsome?" Amy (whose thoughts are on the other side of the street): Very, 'specially the one with the black moustache."

All Sorts.

No man need talk about his honesty except the man who has no honesty to talk about.

Everybody is willing to take religion when he has got out of the world all it can give him.

Young ladies whose tastes are æsthetic are now painting Christmas cards for their gentlemen friends.

"Generous to a fault," may be said of the majority of men—at least they are generous enough to their own faults.

A young country lady of Missouri slashed an insulting fop with a knife. She probably wanted to cut a swell.

The number of people in this world who have rheumatism is much larger than the number of those who have religion.

"Will the coming man use both arms?" is asked. Doubtless he will, if the coming woman is able to drive the horse.

Women kiss each other, not because they like it, but to make men mad at the reckless waste of affection that is going on.

Now, papa, what is humbug?" "It is," replied papa, "when ma pretends to be very fond of me, and puts no buttons on my shirts."

When Adam got tired naming his descendents, he said, "Let the rest be divided into two parts, calling the one part Smith and the other Jones."

Do you wonder that old bachelors are numerous? The trousseau of a New York belle who is to be married next month is said to have cost $125,000.

No longer new: Sleep-walking used to be considered a strange thing, but since policemen do it and draw pay at the same time the novelty has worn off.

When Mr. Spurgeon was asked how he succeeded so wonderfully in keeping his church full, he replied: "I fill the pulpit and let the people fill the pews."

It always makes a young man wild when he discovers all his vests are cut so high that they hide from view his new horseshoe pin studded with diamonds.

The meanest kind of a mean man is the man who will at this season give to a tramp a straw hat, when he knows that if the tramp wears it he'll get gayed to death.

"Very True, So They Do: The fashion of short sleeves never made pretty arms, but it is more than probable that pretty arms make short sleeves fashionable.

"I'm not in mourning," said a young lady to a querist, "but as the widows are getting all the offers nowadays, we poor girls must do something to protect ourselves."

"What have you been doing since I last saw you?" "I've been attending a course of free lectures." "A course of free lectures?" "Yes I was married a week after we parted."

Base ball players command high salaries for next season. Ewing, of Troy, will receive $3,200 from the New York League club for next summer, and he has already been paid $1,000 in advance. Kiefe goes to the same club and gets $2,700, with $800 in advance. Conners receives $2,200, with $600 in advance.

Discipline Will Win!

The Republican, who in this campaign—be he leader or be he henchman—does anything that will afford aid or comfort to the enemy is a traitor to the Republican cause. The Republican party is founded upon great living principles—both moral and economic—which it has borne with springing step and streaming banners, over many a hard-fought field, to victory. It has been true to its high mission, and has ever presented a united front to its enemies. Difference of opinion—even dissensions—may have arisen at times within its ranks, but even its worst foes have been forced to admire the wonderful discipline which brought its divided legions, all animated by a grand common purpose, to the front on the day of battle, and compacted them in invincible array, ready for the victorious charge! There have been in its ranks at times doubting Thomases and denying Peters—occasionally even a Judas—but all in the end was well. And so it will be to the end of that marvelous chapter which the Republican party is writing in the annals of this Nation. It is for great principles, not minor ones, that we fight. It is to the support of the nominees everywhere, whom the party has chosen as standard-bearers of those great principles, that we must flock. For the leaders of both of the great parties have declared that the results of the election next November will affect the Presidential election following it; and Democratic leaders are more than ever anxious to secure a majority in the next House of Representatives because, they say, "that will give us the Presidential count." Let every Republican, therefore, await a more propitious occasion and time to settle questions of minor importance within, and not outside of the ranks of our great party. "All things come round to him who will but wait."

A Specimen Brick.

The record of Aaron Shaw, Democratic nominee for Congress in the sixteenth Congressional district of Illinois, is quoted as showing him to have said:

"The soldiers entered the army pretty fine fellows, but they came out d—d thieves."

"The subjugation of the South, if possible, is not practicable, and if practicable, no desirable."

"Wait until we (meaning Democrats) get a majority in Congress, and we'll stop this d—n pension business."

"The soldiers during the war were a set of d—n thieves and murderers."

The difference between Shaw and the rest of the Democratic leaders is that he lets out just what he thinks, while with most of the others "Mum's the word!"

The Irish Plank.

The conference of the Irish National League in Dublin have just adopted a platform of principles, the second plank of which is as follows:

Second, Protection to Irish industries and government aid in every way possible for their development, as a means of encouraging Irish agriculture by giving it a home market and giving the State a strong body of artisans, and of making the State as far as possible independent of other nations.

What Irishman after reading that emphatic indorsement of the Republican policy of protection can cast another vote for the Anti-Protection Democratic ticket?

Gleanings.

"Please hang up" is the polite telephone for "Hold your tongue."

No man realizes quicker that the flesh is weak than the individual who attempts to break in a pair of tight boots.

A mortgage on a house is like a worm-hole in an apple. Before you know it there is more worm-hole than fruit.

"Where are the men of '76" shrieks an excited exchange. Oh, to Halifax with the men of '76. Give us the women of 23!

When a real shrewd Virginia farmer wants a big tree chopped down and cut up, he tells the neighbors that there's a coon in it, and they'll have it down in ten minutes.

"Don't smoke boys," yells an exchange. Who is smoking them? Some boys are altogether too fresh, but we don't think they would be improved by smoking, unless they were first killed.

A floating item states that "several New York editors own fancy farms in the interior of the State." Exactly; and they are so far "in the interior" that nothing short of an earthquake would ever bring them to the light of day.

It is stated that "a negro child was born at Laurenceburg, N.C., recently with a full set of whiskers and a mustache." By-and-by, if the negro race keep on this way they'll catch up to the white race, whose children are born bald headed and toothless.

"Going away?" they asked the man who was closing the shutters of his house and pulling down the curtains. "No," he replied, "but I'm going to put up some stoves, and I don't propose to have any inhuman gouls look in at the windows and see me and laugh at my misery."

A South End man has taught his dog when offered sausage to smell of it and then turn away with a mournful howl, and when he goes into a butcher's shop where there are a lot of folks, offers the dog a sausage and the dog does the act, it is awful embarrassing for the butcher, and if he gets a chance, he kicks the dog.

Medical.

Disease is an effect, not a cause. Its origin is within; its manifestations are without. Hence, to cure the disease the Cause must be removed, and in no other way can a cure be effected. WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE is established on just principles. It realizes that of all diseases arise from deranged kidneys and liver, and it strikes at once at the root of the difficulty. The elements of which it is composed act directly upon these great organs, both as a food and restorer, and by placing them in a healthy condition, drive disease and pain from the system.

95 Per Cent.

For the innumerable troubles caused by unhealthy Kidneys, Liver and Urinary Organs; for the distressing Disorders of Women; for Malaria, and for physical derangements generally, this great remedy has no equal. Beware of imposters, imitations and connections said to be just as good.

A Coiner of the "Crooked."

NEW YORK, Oct 26.—Van Renseelaer Abrahams, alias Rance Abrahams, whom the secret service agents of the treasury department have long suspected of being engaged in the manufacture of counterfeit dollars, was arrested Wednesday by Special Agent Drummoh. He has been under constant surveillance for months. After the arrest the officers went to Abrahams' house, which they thoroughly searched. In the kitchen they found 209 counterfeit trade and standard dollars in various states, a number of moulds, dies, a ids, files, nippers, metal and a variety of other counterfeit appliances. A new mould was baking in the oven. Mr. Drummond says that the moulds, dies and finished coin are the most perfect that ever came under his notice. Bail was fixed at $10,000. Abrahams has served several terms in prison. In 1876 he completed a four years' sentence in the Eastern penitentiary, Philadelphia, for counterfeiting paper money, and soon after his release came to this city. He is well known about Harlem and also in sporting circles, and keeps several fast horses. When arrested he wore a large diamond pin and a heavy gold watch and chain. The prisoner was known at his residence as Rance Campbell.

The Festival Fete.

PHILADELPHIA, October 26.—To-day is styled "festival" day in the group of bi-centennial fetes. The day's ceremonies were inaugurated by a parade of Knights Templar. The same route as that chosen by the previous procession was covered. At the same hour there was a bicycle meet and review and archery contest in Fairmount park, and the Welch music festival in the Bi-Centennial music hall. The crowd appeared to be undiminished as the templar parade passed through the streets. The participants, comprising commanderies from New York, Washington, Providence, Pittsburgh Richmond and other cities, numbered between six thousand and seven thousand. They presented a superb appearance in their showy regalia and elicited applause everywhere by the precision with which they executed the various intricate convolutions.

Rendered Insane.

CINCINNATI, October 25.—When Fredrick Captain, Sr., who is under arrest on suspicion of complicity in the murder of A. W. Ross, gave his testimony before the coroner he stated that he hid his coat, which he wore the day before the murder, in a corn shock, and had not been able since to find it. While in the jail he had symptoms of insanity, among which were references to a bloody coat hidden in a corn shock. Yesterday Marshal Dooley, of Glendale, took Captain and searched in vain in the cornfield for the coat. At Captain's house another was made and here, hidden under the bed-clothes of the cradle, was found a pair of pantaloons that had been washed, but which still bore marks of blood. At sight of this garment Captain broke out in an insane fit of raving, and has ever since continued in a state of apparent insanity.

Safe Blowers at Work.

NASSAU, N. H., October 26.—It is reported that the bank at Wilton was broken into last night, the safe blown open and contents stolen, and that the robbers also broke into two stores, stole a team and shot one man. It has been learned that the burglars secured only twelve dollars, as the bank keeps its deposits elsewhere. The thieves afterward broke into two dry goods stores but got only a small amount of money. In their fight the burglars encountered Dr. A. H. Powers, shooting him in the arm. They then stole a team and escaped, the team being subsequently found at Manchester.

The Trades' Triumph.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., October 25.—The fine weather continued to make trades' day—as to-day is styled in the group of bi-centennial fetes—a perfect gala occasion. The city was, as yesterday, fairly swathed in flags, bunting and evergreens, and although it was not a legal holiday, business is at a standstill. The trades parade was very fine, the first division having in it a thousand men from the Altoona shops of the Pennsylvania railroad. At the head of the division they carried a magnificent oil painting, representing a locomotive and cars crossing the Susquehanna river. Baldwin's locomotive works had two thousand men in line. As a whole the demonstration was unique and interesting, particularly in the numerous contrasts that were shown between the primitive methods or products of trade in this city from thirty to one hundred years ago and the resources and results of trade at the present day.

Broad street, between Columbia avenue and Christian street, a distance of over two miles, was occupied to-night by 150,000 people anxious to view the night tableaux presented by the Bi-Centennial tableaux association, and half as many more were packed along both sides of Chestnut, Market and Third streets. Most of the dwellings and other buildings were brilliantly illuminated and handsomely decorated. After about an hour's delay beyond the hour appointed for the start (8 p. m.), the procession was got under way, but some interminable stops increased the delay afterward so that it was nearly midnight when the procession came to the Academy of Music, and the participants entered that edifice to take their parts in the Penn tableaux arranged for exhibition with the grand reception given under the auspicies of the tableaux association. In advance of the head of the line where wagons containing brilliant white pyrotechnic lights, and they were burned for several squares in advance of the procession.

Each of the tableaux were illuminated by the reflection of calcium and hydro-carbon lights cast upon the groups in the floats. The reception given at the academy of music by the mystic tableaux association, whose members formed the various groups and scenes shown in the procession, was attended by a brilliant throng, the invited guests including Governor Hoyt and staff, judges of the courts, city officials, Commodore Simpson and other prominent naval and army officers, including those of the North Atlantic squadron now lying in the Delaware river, the chief officers of the Knights Templar commanderies and distinguished members of business and professional circles. There was a preliminary concert this evening of the Welsh singers who are present in great force from two or three neighboring counties, but the musical festival proper will take place to-morrow morning, and the concert of the united German singers in the afternoon.

Military Day.

PHILADELPHIA, October 27.—The same lovely weather that has favored the fetes in this city since and including Tuesday prevail to-day. To-day is set down in the official programme as "Military Day." The same dense crowd that has literally lined Broad, Market, Chestnut and Third streets since Tuesday again blocked those thoroughfares this morning, and decorations seemed more profuse than heretofore. Over twenty thousand men were in line, exclusive of several cadet companies. The whole three brigades of Pennsylvania militia and brigades and companies from New Jersey, Delaware, Baltimore and Washington were in line. The procession moved shortly after 11 o'clock. Governor Hoyt and staff and many distinguished guests reviewed the line from the grand stand north of Broad street. The Grand Army posts had about ten thousand men in line.

Pickpockets Come to Grief.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26.—The benches in the Central station dock were not sufficient to seat the crowd of pickpockets and suspicious characters who were brought up this morning for a hearing. All but two were committed to prison as professional thieves or were held to answer at court. Among them were: George Wilson, of Cleveland, Ohio; John Hill, of Boston; Henry Fisher, John Williams, John Pierson and Bernard Jones, of Baltimore. A miscellaneous assortment of valuables were found on all of them, Bernard Jones being found in possession of three watches and a pocketbook containing fifty-five dollars. The latter was identified as the property of William Cartwright, of Oswego, N. Y., and Jones was sent to court at once to be "railroaded" to the penitentiary.

The Fate of Prof. Palmer.

ALEXANDRIA, October 26.—Colonel Warren, who has been searching for Prof. Palmer and party, who, it is feared, have been murdered by Bedouins, reports that he has seized a letter at Akba, written by the governor of Nakpe, proving that the governor ordered them to be attacked. The letter states they were killed.

Postmaster in Trouble.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 27.—Frank A. Crowel, assistant postmaster at Wellsboro, was arrested last night by a postoffice inspector for rifling registered letters. This arrest is regarded by the officers as an important one, as it involves very heavy losses of registered mail in transit through that office.

The Walking Match.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—At 12 o'clock the score was: Huges, 419, Hart, 408; Fitzgeral, 431; Noremac, 418; Herty, 402; Vint, 370; Hazael has withdrawn.

At 5.30 Rowell retired to his tent and all sorts of rumors concerning his condition were floating around the garden. At 7 o'clock it was definitely known around the tents that he had given up the race. At 8 o'clock Harold Busby, according to instructions, had his name stricken from the dial and the ex-champion quitted the race with a score of 384 miles and 3 laps. Rowell's stoppage is due to the irregular action of the heart. He was found after his withdrawal lying on his cot with his feet propped up. He was anxious to continue the race, expressing confidence in his ability to win, but his trainer and backers recognizing the seriousness of the case refused to let him do so.

When Hazael retired his score was 414 miles and 10 laps. His knees had given out. Hazael and Rowell slept in their tents all night and will be taken away in the morning. Among the betting men Noremac is the favorite.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Panchot was a visitor at the garden to-day. He offers for sale the O'Leary diamond belt, which he won in a previous contest. Hughes thinks the third man will get little or nothing from the gate receipts, but announces his intention to go for that place.

At 5.34 Vint retired from the track. He was perfectly able to cover his 525 miles, but as that would not bring him back his entrance fee or give him any share in the gate receipts he withdrew. There is general dissatisfaction among the walkers in regard to the gate receipts, the general rumor being that there has not been enough to cover expenses.

At 9 o'clock the score was: Hughes, 438; Noremac, 453; Hart, 427; Fitzgerald, 466; Herty, 434; Vint, 398.

At midnight the score stood: Hughes, 449; Hart, 413; Noremac, 461; Herty, 445; Vint, 406; Fitzgerald, 476.

At 3 o'clock the score stood: Hughes, 453; Noremac, 473; Hart, 439; Fitzgerald, 490; Herty, 448; Vint, 415.

At 10 o'clock the score was: Hughes, 468; Hart, 466; Fitzgerald, 516; Noremac, 500; Herty, 486.

Score at midnight was: Fitzgerald, 516; Noremac, 502; Herty, 492; Hart, 472; Hughes, 470.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28, 9 o'clock a. m.—At this time the score is as follows: Fitzgerald, 542; Noremac, 524; Herty, 512; Hughes, 493; Hart, 482.

NEW YORK, October 29.—Never did a six-day race conclude in New York with less enthusiasm than was displayed last night in Madison Square Garden. So far as the race itself was concerned there was nothing left to interest spectators, and the entertainment was brought to an early close in the presence of less than a thousand spectators. Times have indeed changed since Rowell earned a small fortune on the same track by making a less distance than even Hughes made last week, and Hughes absolutely losses money by having entered. The stake, with nine entries of $500 each, amounted to $4,500, of which $3,150 goes to Fitzgerald, $900 to Noremac and $450 to Herty.

The final laps were run in good style by Fitzgerald, Noramac, Herty and Hughes—Hart having withdrawn in the afternoon. The Lepper made his 525th mile at ten minutes to 9, amid enthusiastic applause from his constituents—mostly boys. The final score stood: Fitzgerald, 577; Noremac, 566. Herty and Noremac put in their last laps at a rapid run, while the boys in the garden—it was a great sight for the boys, who somehow managed to secure admission—yelled themselves nearly hoarse. The men went to their rooms at a quarter to 10.

The Scoville Unsavory Scandal.

CHICAGO, Ills., October 27.—In the Scoville case to-day Louis, son of the defendant, testified that he believed his mother to be insane because she persisted in the notion that she could write books and lectures successfully, and because she ran a boarding house when she was losing money. Mrs. Scoville Harper testified that their mother had told her that her physician, Dr. Ammerman, was the most lovable man that ever lived and he died for love of her. While this witness was under cross examination her husband, apparently under the influence of liquor, made a disturbance in court saying he was there to protect his wife. He was committed for ten days for contempt. Mrs. Harper's testimony closed the evidence and the attorneys then made their arguments to the jury.

Attempt at Robbery.

DETROIT, Mich., October 27.—A clumsy attempt to rob the passengers on a Grand Trunk train was made last night, near Windsor, opposite Detroit. Six men boarded the train at Welkenville, two miles above Windsore, and attacked the passengers, but they were resisted and only one man lost any money—$10. The thief was caught. The plan of the thieves seemed to have been to make a rush on the passengers, secure what they could and then escape.

No Ground for Alarm.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—A semi-official note is published referring to the recent events at Montcean Les Mines and Lyons. It says the government is watching the proceedings of an organized association whose head chiefs remain abroad.

Destructive Flames.

FALL RIVER, Mass., October 29.—About 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon fire was discovered in the picker house of the Flint mill. When first discovered flames were issuing from the belt box of the main belt in the engine room, in the lower story of the picker house, and they spread with lightning rapidity along the belt to the upper story. In less time than it takes to describe it the flames were bursting forth from every window. When the fire was first discovered what few employes were in the mill immediately made every effort to extinguish the flames, but without success. It being Saturday afternoon, most of the employes had gone home nearly an hour before, so the regular fire department of the mill was not available to handle the force pumps and hydrants with which the mill was supplied. Directly opposite the burning mill was the Wampanoag mill, a massive granite structure, separated from it by a space only 150 feet in width. The strong northeast wind blew a cloud of burning cinders straight against it, and it began to blacken with the heat and smoke. It seemed at one time as if the mill was also doomed, and word was telegraphed to New Bedford, Taunton and Newport for assistance. The firemen worked heroically and deluged its sides with well directed streams of water and thus saved it, well earning liberal praise bestowed upon them.

The loss is estimated at about $700,000. The treasurer, Colonel B. D. Dovol, says that he is not certain whether the mill will be rebuilt and that no definite information can be given until after the annual meeting which will be held on November 6. There was no loss of life.

A Catholic Church Dedicated.

HOUTZDALE, Pa., Oct. 29—The dedication of St. John's Catholic church took place to-day. Large numbers of people from all parts of the county were present. An Erie special train from Hawley and thirty cars by the Delaware and Hudson gravity road from Scranton and Carbondale landed their passengers in front of the church at 11 a. m. The services were conducted by the Rt. Rev. Wm. O'Harra, bishop of Scranton, and the Rev. Messrs. Nagle, of Wilkesbarre; Francis Carew, of Carbondale; Richard McCaudreus, of Scranton; Moses Whitty, of Providence; J. P. Smilley, of Hawley, and William Dassel and John Doherty, of Honesdale. The church is a massive stone structure in the Gothic style. The corner stone was laid in 1876. The Delaware and Hudson canal company was thanked through its general manager, Mr. C. F. Young, for the generous gift of the lot on which the church is built.

A Town in Ashes.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 28.—A dispatch from Truckee says: "A fire last evening destroyed a considerable portion of the business part of the town, including the American hotel, the Sterritt house and the Odd fellows' building. The loss is probably upwards of $100,000, two-thirds covered by insurance. The fire started in Menke's brewery, and was thought to be attributable to his carelessness. This is the fourth general fire that has occurred within a few years, and under the excitement subsequent upon this conflagration there was some talk of lynching Menke.

Attempted Suicide and Murder.

NEW YORK, Octocber 27.—Charles Schwartz, aged 35, employed in the stables of the Third avenue railroad company, made a deliberate attempt this afternoon to murder his uncle, Louis Lyon, the president of the company, in the latter's office. He fired two shots at him without effect and then blew his own brains out, dying fifteen minutes later in the hospital. The cause of the tragedy is unknown.

A Bold Robbery.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—This afternoon Richard Magee, a brewer, was ascending the stairway of a building on Walnut street above Fourth, when he was jostled by three men who were very profuse in their apologies, and then passed out into the street. Mr. Magee discovered a few minutes afterwards that a wallet containing $2,200 was missing from an inside pocket of his coat. The police are searching for the thieves.

Want an Advance.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 27.—At the coal miners' convention to-day, called to demand one half cent per ton of an advance in the price of mining, a committee was appointed to see the operators in regard to the demand and report at a meeting to be held on November 13. If the operators refuse to concede the allowance a strike will probably result.

A $150,000 Fire.

CHESTER, Pa., Oct. 28.—The extensive works of the Eureka cast steel company, at Lamokin, were destroyed by fire at an early hour this morning. A large number of valuable patterns were also destroyed. The total loss is about $150,000, which is fully covered by insurance. The fire originated in the cupola.

Fell Forty Feet.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., October 27.—Michael McHugo and James Murphy were thrown forty feet to the ground by the breaking of an elevator at Lee's mill, Bridgeport, this afternoon. McHugo died in a few minutes. Murphy was severely bruised about the head.

Will Favor Amending.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—At a meeting of the Irish parliamentary party to-day a resolution in favor of amending the arrears of rent bill passed.

A Republican Gain in Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 25.—The annual election for members of the first branch of the city council was held to-day. The democrats had the regular ticket in each of the twenty wards; the republicans in all the wards excepting the Eighth, Ninth and Seventeenth, and the united labor party in all except the Ninth. In the First, Second, Third, Fifth, Sixth and Eighteenth wards the candidates of the united labor party were endorsed and voted for by the republicans. The democrats elected their candidates in seventeen wards and the republicans in three, the Eleventh, Fourteenth and Eighteenth, a gain of three republicans, the last council being composed entirely of democrats. The total democratic vote was 24,495; total opposition, 18,444

Senator Alexander's Position—He Withdraws.

Our townsman, Senator Alexander the regular Democratic candidate for Senator of the 34th district, addresses a letter "to the committee of Democrats appointed by the respective county committees, representing the Democracy of Centre, Clinton and Clearfield counties in joint assembly, met." He reviews the action of the conferees in their several sessions, which culminated in nominating him, and then continues:

"No other action on the part of your committee than the indorsement of my nomination will or can have any binding force upon either myself or on the party. The county conventions of the respective counties are the only parties authorized under the rules of the Democratic party to name candidates for the office of State Senator. The convention of Clearfield county has named James F. Flynn; the convention of Clinton county has named S. Woods Caldwell, and the convention of Centre county has named C. T. Alexander. These several conventions either selected conferees or imposed the power upon the respective candidates to choose conferees to meet and nominate one of the three candidates named as the candidate of the party. They did not confer the power upon the committee. The county committees are only creatures of the county conventions, elected only for a specific purpose—the management of the campaign—and have no power to name candidates. The action of the several county committees in their efforts to select new conferees is itself a nullity, and any action of the said conferees so chosen other than advisory, will not be binding upon the candidates named by the respective county conventions or upon the body of the people composing the party."

SENATOR ALEXANDER'S WITHDRAWAL.

Since copying the above we learn that Senator Alexander's position is again changed and his conferees received a telegram from him on Tuesday evening of last week, saying that it was not necessary for them to go to Tyrone in his interest to-day as he had formally withdrawn in favor of Hon. Wm. A. Wallace, of Clearfield.

—On Monday afternoon, October 9, a rumor gained circulation on the streets of Pittsburgh that Congressman Thomae M. Bayne had either been shot or shot himself dead at his home in Bellevue. This was at 5 o'clock, and an hour later it seemed to be in everybody's mouth, the report circulating like wildfire. It was believed by but few of the Colonel's friends and acquaintances, and, on investigation, was proved to be entirely false. The Colonel is alive and well. All false rumors soon give place to facts, and the various reports that have from time to time reached our ears have been dismissed from our minds for the reception of the great truth that Sechler & Co., of the Bush House grocery store and meat market, continue to transact a tremendous trade. Their store is the place for all people to go to who want their money's worth; who want just weights and measures, and who would receive the attention of kind and obliging clerks. If you patronize Sechler's meat market you can make both ends meet with tolerable ease.

—Lieut. Danenhower's testimony was such as to increase in our minds the dangers of Arctic explorations, and we shall stay at home and purchase groceries of Harry Teats & Co.

—Although Austrian law fixes no maximum of labor for adults, it is rigorous as to children. Under 10 they may not work in any species of factory, and from 10 to 12 only when armed with a municipal permit, granted by request of parent or guardian. To get this permit it must be shown that the work will be in an industrial school or of a kind compatable with schooling. The authorities reserve the right of deciding whether or not the work is suitable for a child. Thus it will be seen that in this respect Austria is in advance of the United States. She may be in other respects, but we are sure that in the excellence of her grocery stores she does not compare with our country. A visit to the store of Sechler & Co. will convince the most doubtful person that it is a model of its kind. It has no superior in Centre county and is a credit to this part of the country. It would amaze the Austrians to see the splendid sugars, spices, syrups, canned goods, &c., which they sell. Try them.

—Adam Kerpin, of Chicago, possesses the longest beard in the world. The beard which he at present wears has attained the wonderful length of twelve feet. He disposes of this rather unwieldy appendage when walking on the street, by rolling it around a leather belt suspended about his neck. The length of the beard is such that he can place both feet upon it, and the other end upon being lifted up reaches a few inches above his head. The beard, which is of a dull, gray color, is quite thick, and is the result of twenty-two years uninterrupted growth.

—Mrs. Langtry's mouth is large. It is made so for the purpose of consuming a large quantity of groceries which she will purchase of Harry Teats & Co.

—The dedicatory services in the Reformed church on Sunday morning were well attended and the sermon delivered by Rev. Dr. D. S. Wagner, of Allentown, was a magnificent effort. No attempt was made to raise money to pay off the debt of the church, although the fear of being urged to subscribe doubtless deterred some from being present. The sermon delivered at the evening service by Rev. Prof. D. M. Wolf, county superintendent, was also one of the most able pulpit discourses ever delivered by that gentleman, which is saying much, as he is considered a very superior pulpit orator.

—The proper place to purchase cigars is at the store of F. P. Green. Call on Harry Green and he will tell you all about them.

—There was a murder committed on Howard street on Saturday evening—at least, the neighbors in that vicinity thought so and came running to the aid of the victims. Several ladies endured untold agon for at least half an hour and felt the prostrating effects of nervous fright until Sunday morning. But when the intoxicated individual who occasioned the alarm was dragged from the front entrance all fear of immediate danger was dissipated, and the aforesaid ladies, after pinching themselves to find that they were all there, concluded that a horrible tragedy would not be committed that night—but some other night.

—If you come to town before election day call at the store of Harry Teats & Co. and inspect their large stock of fine groceries.

—Mrs. Langtry, the famous beauty and actress, arrived in New York City on Monday. The first impressions are that her beauty does not equal the high standard which the people were led to expect, but her face was much more beautiful when animated with conversation than when in repose. It is thought that she will "make up" beautifully and her stage appearance will be grand. She will make her first appearance as Hester Grazebrook in "The Unequal Match," and will not attempt any of the heavy, old comedies this year.

—Politics is now the absorbing theme of discussion, but people do not lose sight of the fact that a penny can be saved by purchasing groceries of Sechler & Co.

—The citizens of Clearfield are becoming notorious in a very disreputable way. A few weeks ago they attempted to bribe members of the Democratic Senatorial conference to nominate the candidate from that county, and now they are accused of offering money to a Williamsport gentlemen who played with the Lock Haven base ball club in a game between that club and the Clearfield nine, and as a result of the poor playing of this gentleman the Lock Haven club lost the game.

—Are you endeavoring to practice rigid economy? If so, it will be greatly to your advantage to purchase groceries of Sechler.

We do not find fault, reproach or condemn the practice of any regular physician—this is not our mission—but we do claim if he were to add Peruna to his prescriptions as directed in our book on the "Ills of Life" (and furnished gratuitously by all druggists), he would cure all his patients.

DR. HARTMAN—Dear Sir: The small ulcers are all healed, and the two large ones are not more than half as large as they were. I am feeling quite well. People say Peruna and Manalin are doing a miracle. I do not take nearly so much opium as I did before. MRS. ELLEN MAYNARD.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF VALENTINES & Co.—This establishment is now offering a line of beautiful black silks which are especially recommended for their wearing qualities. It will be but little trouble for any one wanting a silk dress to inspect these goods and it is certainly a pleasure to exhibit them whether the customers purchase or not.

There is also a line of suiting flannels. These goods give better satisfaction and greater value for the money than anything else in the line of dress goods. The cost of weaving is much less than in goods woven with figures.

The stock is full in all lines of staple goods, ginghams, muslins, prints, Canton flannels, wove flannels, etc., which all should examine.

In men's, boys' and youths' clothing we have an elegant assortment of Rochester, Philadelphia and New York makes, than which there are no better in the country.

As fine an assortment of underwear for the coming season as any one would care to look at is now in stock.

It will immediately free the head from all dandruff, restore gray hair to its natural color, and produce a new growth where it has fallen off. Ask your druggists for it. Each bottle is warranted. Smith, Kline & Co., Wholesale Agents, Philadelphia, and C. N. Crittenton, New York. 14 24 1y

Confidence Game!

A farmer entered the Boston Clothing, Boot and Shoe House, just opened in Reynolds' block, opposite the Brockerhoff house, Bellefonte, Pa., yesterday, and asked to look at a suit of clothes. He took them up, carefully examined them and asked several questions about them. The clerk of course suspected nothing wrong; on the contrary, the general appearance of the man bespoke him to be an honest, had-working man, and evidently in need of a suit of clothes. Nothing unusual happened until the man took out his weather beaten "money purse" and handed the clerk a fifty dollar note. The clerk deducted the price of the man's clothes, and handed the sly old farmer his change. Our rural friend, after securing his stamps, turned to depart and at the same time said to the clerk: "Six months ago I bought a suit of clothes here, and they have done me such good service and were sold at such a reasonable price that I have the utmost confidence in this store and shall buy all my clothing, boots and shoes, hats and shirts hereafter for myself and boys at the Boston Clothing, Boot and Shoe House."

ESTRAY.—Came trespassing on the premises of the undersigned, in Walker township, the 8th day of September, a Roan Bull, about 1 year old. No marks. The owner is requested to come forward, prove property, pay charges and take him away, or he will be disposed of according to law. ADAM McEWEN.

THE LATEST NEWS.

Chester's Big Day.

CHESTER, Pa, October 23 —The bicentenial celebrated here to-day is a grand success. The city is gaily decorated and all places of business are closed. It is estimated that over twenty thousand visitors are in the city, among whom are Governor Hoyt, Adjutant General Latta and other distinguished men. The exercises be an at 9 30 o'clock with a representation of the landing of Penn and his party from an old-fashioned boat at the foot of Penn street, the exact spot where Penn first landed in this state two hundred years ago. The party was met by Quakers, Swedes and others in costumes of the period, a short distance from shore, where Penn met the Indians with whom he had a long talk. When Penn landed the vessels in the river blew their whistles, the bells throughout the city were rung, people applauded and altogether there was the utmost excitement.

At 11 30 a large meeting was organized and called to order by Mayor Barton, there being over 15,000 people crowded into a wonderfully small space. After prayer by Rev. Henry Brown, two thousand school children sang "My Country 'tis of Thee." Governor Hoyt then addressed the audience, and his remarks were heartily applauded. Rev. Mr. Pancoast read an original poem, and Hon. John M Broomal, the orator, eulogized William Penn and his peace policy and denounced the war and its results. The meeting closed with music by a band of fifty pieces. A grand civic, military and industrial parade followed, in which over sixty thousand persons participated.

Protestant Episcopal Congress.

RICHMOND, Va., October 24.—The eighth annual congress of the Protestant Episcopal church of the United States assembled here today. Rt. Rev. J. N. Gallaher, D. D., bishop of Louisiana, delivered an address, giving a succinct review of the object and scope of the church congress. The religious exercises were concluded by the administration of the holy comunion by Right Rev Bishop G. M. Whittle, of Virginia. A large number of visitors are present. In the afternoon the exercises opened with the singing of the hymn, "Come, Gracious Spirit, Heavenly Dove." Bishop Whittle next spoke a few words of cordial welcome to the members of the congress and a memorial hymn was sung.

Served Him Right.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 23.—Rev. W. L. Woodruff, who was arrested a few days since by order of Postoffice Inspector Henderson, charged with a violation of the United States laws by "opening a letter sent by mail before it had been delivered to the person to whom it was addressed with intent to obstruct correspondence and to pry into the secrets and business of another," had a hearing this afternoon before United States Commissioner Rogers and was held for the action of the grand jury and in default of one thousand dollars' bail was taken to jail.

Arrival of the Heart-breaker.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Mrs. Langtry, the celebrated "Jersey Lily," who arrived from Europe this morning, drove immediately to a hotel. She was seen by a reporter, and expressed satisfaction at being in New York. "It reminds me so much of Paris," she said, "and the flowers are artistically beautiful." Mrs. Langtry will not go out to-day, but will attend the theatre this evening. Mrs. Labouchere is Mrs. Langtry's chaperone.

King Milan Shot at.

BELGRADE, October 23.—A woman fired twice at King Milan in the Cathedral to-day. The king was not hurt.

The king's assailant is the widow of the Colonel Jefrew Markowitch, who was executed with several other rioters in May, 1878, by order of Milan. It is suspected that the attempt is not merely attributable to revenge but partly to political motives.

That Skirmishing Fund.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The subscribers to the skirmishing fund met to-day. Little business was done. Reference was made to the telegram sent to Sir Elyvan Harcourt, and for which $117 was charged. It was stated that only $12 had been paid for it. Numerous letters were received from presidents of Wilkesbarre, Scranton and other cities in Pennsylvania, stating that the accusations made by Luke Clark at previous meetings were in the main correct.

Methodist Bishops

BERWICK, Pa., Oct. 25.—The board of bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church assembled for conference here to-day. All are in attendance except Bishops Peck and Foster. The conference will continue during the week. A public reception will be given them on Thursday evening, and the pulpits of the various churches in the neighboring towns will be occupied by them on Sunday next. The conference meetings will be private, but the results will probably be given to the public at the close

A Successful Celebration.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 24.—No more fitting weather could be wished for than that which prevailed here today. The air is clear and crisp and the sun shone brightly. The immense crowds and profuse decorations were astonishing. Indeed at no time—not even during the centennial year—was any event so thoroughly and heartily celebrated by the public. One vast crowd filled the streets, the boats on the river, the front windows and roofs of houses and any other place where a view could be had. Shortly after 8 o'clock tug boats, barges and other vessels formed on the Deleware river, to the number of about 150, in a line in front of the city and started down the stream.

After passing a point half way between the mouth of the Schuylkill and Fort Mifflin the long line of craft turned and steamed along the river front to Kensington. On returning to the Dock street wharf the Penn party disembarked. As the allegorical William Penn stepped over the side of the "Welcome" the scene was enlivening and interesting beyond description. Innumerable bells were rung, whistles blown and guns fired, both on water and ashore, while the multitude cheered lustily.

Fifteen thousand people were jammed into Dock street to witness the entrance of Penn into the "Blue Anchor inn," and although the police roped off a space the crowd broke the cordon at every point, and tremendous confusion occurred. Finally the police managed to clear a space, and the welcome at the "Blue Anchor," Second and Dock streets, was carried out. There then followed the grand "landing day" demonstration, one of the finest parades ever witnessed here. The line formed on Broad street, south of Chestnut, and began to move just before noon. Along the entire route the streets, sidewalks, windows, doorways and roofs and stands erected for the purpose were crowded. Everywhere was the same brilliant scene of flags, bunting, pictures of Penn, festoons and unique decorations in flowers, evergreens and canvas, and above and fronting all the long unbroken lines of people.

Public and private buildings in all parts of the city were illuminated to-night in accordance with recomendations of those having charge of the bi-centennial celebration. It is estimated that in the neighborhood of one hundred thousand people viewed the pyrotechnic display in East park to-night. The boat houses of the Schuylkill navy along the Schuylkill river were prettily illuminated with Chinese lanterns and other lights and colored bengolas were kept burning at the water's edge, giving the Schuylkill in that vicinity a beautiful appearance. The fire works were elaborate and very successful, the atmosphere being clear and full moon shining. Among the most eleborate set pieces were portraits of Washington, Penn, Lincoln, and Garfield, the Bartholdi liberty statue and a cascade, a triumphal column, a locomotive and train of cars, and representations of Penn's landing, Penn's meeting with Lord Baltimore and Penn's treaty with the Indians. A gigantic representation of Niagara Falls brought the display to a close at ten minutes past 9 o'clock.

Explosion of Pyrotechnics.

PHILADELPHIA, October 24—During the pyrotechnics at Fairmount park this evening Mrs. David Coakley, residing at Forty-second and Wood streets was instantly killed and fiv other persons were injured by the explosion of a bomb, and Mrs. Eva McCardie, residing at 530 Gold street, had both legs fractured by the explosion of a mortar.

John Tanner, age and residence unknown, has died from his injuries. Harry Borden, aged 29, of Atlantic City, had his left shoulder nearly torn off, and will die. He was taken to the German hospital. His wife Kate, 24 years old, was wounded in the arm and breast Albert Sellers, 35 years old, residing at 2411 Meredith street, has had his arm amputated. He will probably die. W. Love, 35 years old, had his leg injured and was taken home. He will probably die. Dorothy S. Miller, aged 7 years, residing at 1020 Poplar street, head injured, and will die. Joseph Cahan, of 1247 North Sixteenth street, and Thomas Harrison, a park guard, were also injured.

Politics Not Under Discussion.

WASHINGTON, October 25.—The statement to the effect that political affairs in New York and Pennsylvania and other states have been the subject of a formal discussion at the cabinet meetings is authoritively denied by the president and members of the cabinet. They say that no reference whatever to political matters has been made at any meeting and that no dispatches whatever, cipher or otherwise, have been sent from the White House to the chairman of the state committee in New York, or to any one else on political subjects.

"I suppose when women get their rights," said the young man in the flat hat, "you girls will be making love to the fellows. It must be awfully nice to be made love to, you know." "Yes," replied Angelina, "only one wants to choose one's lovers." The next moment the young man in the flat hat was standing alone, feeling flatter than his flat hat.

"Anybody called this morning?" asked the editor of a country paper of his assistant, whom he met on the stairs. "Yes, our subscribers are up stairs." "What! all of 'em?" "Yes, they're all there." "What did you do, then? We've only got two chairs?" "Oh, I borrowed one next door."

ITHURIA'S SPEAR.—One touch of it transformed the toad at the ear of Eve into his true Satanic shape, and sent him away. The toad of disease is silently issuing his venom, not at the ear, but at the kidneys and liver of many a man who, "feeling out of sorts," does not know just what is the matter with him. By and by, when the mischief is done, and Bright's Disease or some other terrible malady has set in, he discovers his ailment only to despair of its cure. Now Hunt's Remedy is as Ithuria's spear. Its touch reveals the disease in its true shape, and then dismisses it from the system. Even in the worst cases of kidney complaints, it is not too late to call Hunt's Remedy in. It has snatched many from the very jaws of death.

An Infamous Assertion Contradicted.

It is indeed strange that a newspaper which makes some pretentions to decency can descend so low as to make a false assertion with the object of injuring an upright, honorable gentlemen and a respected citizen. But it is almost past belief that the paper in question would go so far as to make use of the name of a respected Methodist minister who but lately passed from the tumultuous scenes of earth to the sweet rest of heaven, and while the earth is yet fresh on his grave make him responsible for the terrible untruth. The Democratic press has attempted that more than once in the case of the lamented Garfield and on the 20th of October the Watchman, of this place, published an editorial entitled "General Beaver as the Emperor Nero. Rev. C. O. Whippo the Victim," in which the Watchman alleges that General Beaver treated Rev. Whippo in a cruel manner when the latter was a corporal in Captain Bayard's company, of the 148th regiment, then commanded by Col. James A. Beaver. The Watchman knows that "dead men tell no tales," and that Reverend Whippo cannot rise from his grave to deny the story. We are sure, however, that he would deny it if he was alive to-day. But there are living witnesses to the events that really did occur and we publish below the indignant denials which they give to the infamous assertion.

Captain George A. Bayard is one of the persons mentioned by the Watchman to support its false charge. He is a man of honor and integrity; let him speak for himself:

BELLEFONTE, Oct. 25, '82.

To Editor Daily News:

My attention has been called to an article appearing in the Democratic Watchman, under date of October 20th, relating to Rev. C. O. Whippo. I know the facts in relation to C. O. Whippo, and I pronounce the article above referred to as absolutely false, and that the Watchman knows the same to be false.

I was Captain of the company in Col. Beaver's regiment. C. O. Whippo was a Corporal of my company. I know he was not sick, but upon the other hand was perfectly well. He fell out of the ranks just after leaving the City of Washington. He was lagging behind the company. He disobeyed the proper orders of his superior officer, and he was thereupon ordered to the ranks.

The allegation in the Watchman that "Col. Beaver caught him roughly by the sleeve and led him back to the company, ordering Capt. Bayard to take the stripes off of that man,' is infamously false—nothing of the kind occurred.

General Beaver simply did his duty; under like circumstances I would have done the same. I have reduced others for less offences. I take pleasure in saying that after this Whippo proved to be a good soldier. Whippo never complained to me of the act of Gen. Beaver.

GEO. A. BAYARD,
Late Capt. Co. "H," 148th Regt.

Mr. G. T. Jones, of Port Matilda, was a member of Company "H," 148th regiment, and an eye witness of the events as they occurred. Having been a fellow soldier, a relative and a neighbor of Reverend Whippo, who could be better authority?

Mr. Jones writes us as follows:

Mr. Editor: The 148th regiment took the cars at Cockeysville in December, '63, and went through to the Fredericksburg fight, marching on foot through Washington City. When the regiment was about to enter the city General Beaver gave strict orders for every soldier to keep his place and march through the city in a soldier-like manner, every button and fixture about every soldier of the Regiment being first properly adjusted, Beaver assisting with his own hands. Beaver made the remark at the same time that he wanted the 148th Regiment to have the praise of being the best looking regiment that had yet passed through Washington City. While marching through the city, Corporal Whippo, forgetting himself, (these were Whippo's own words), left his place in the ranks to avoid some mud that was in the road-(There was no mud hole in the road, as Beaver's enemies allege). Beaver, seeing Corporal Whippo while out of rank, rode back on the opposite side of the column and ordered Whippo into rank, stating at the same time that he (Beaver) would reduce him to the ranks and take off the stripes for disobeying orders. A few days afterwards at dress parade Whippo appeared still with the stripes on. Beaver repeated his orders to Whippo to take off the stripes. Whippo appeared a third time with the stripes on at dress parade, when Beaver informed him that if he did not take the stripes off that he (Beaver) would court martial him. Then, and not until then, he took the stripes off. Whippo did not complain of ill health at that time. He was a brother-in-law of mine. All this took place in my presence. I saw and heard the whole of it and am willing and ready to be sworn to the facts as above stated at any time. Whippo and I were both members of the same company, (Co. "H."). G. T. JONES.

Election Notes.

The general election shall be held annually on the Tuesday following the first Monday of November; subject to change by a two-thirds vote of the general assembly.

Judiciary, state, county, township and borough tickets to be deposited in separate boxes. P. 137, s. 36.

As soon as all the votes for any office shall be read off and counted, the judge shall publicly declare the number for such person. P. 139, s. 46.

Returns shall state the number of votes received by each candidate, first in words, then in figures and signed by full board of officers, or reasons for not signing attached to returns. P. 107, s. 13.

All judges living within twelve miles of the prothonotary's office, etc., shall, before 2 p. m. of the day after election, deliver election papers to the clerk of quarter sessions. P. 107, s. 12.

It would prevent much annoying delay and inconvenience, if each elector would announce his name when presenting his ballot at the polls. It is impossible for the inspector to call but very few voters by name, on the instant, and very frequently the poor light prevents a recognition of even those with whom he may be well acquainted.

It is always embarrassing to the election officers to have anyone outside of the board present during the counting off, and should be forbidden by custom until it becomes forbidden by law.

Rattlesnakes.

The long evenings are at hand when the hero of a dozen rattlesnake adventures during the past season can sit by the fire and hold his listeners spell-bound while he relates his thrilling experiences. Of all the snakes of our clime those which warn you of their dangerous proximity by an ominous rattle are apparently the most numerous and the most to be dreaded. These were unusually plentiful after the long period of damp weather which prevailed last spring and many were slain in their tracks. But they are not easy to kill, and you can not be sure that they have been deprived of power to inflict vengeance until their heads have been severed from their bodies. A veteran snake-slayer, near Snow Shoe, thought that he had dispatched one a short time ago, and having removed its rattle, flung its body into an empty tub. Approaching it some time after to throw hot water upon it, he just touched it with the scalding liquid when his snakeship leaped from the tub and came within an inch of inflicting its deadly fangs upon our hero's flesh. As if chagrined at its failure the snake leaped back into the tub. He will be careful not to approach too near a rattlesnake hereafter so long as its head is attached to its body, even if it does have the appearance of a defunct reptile.

Death on the Rail.

Mr. John S. Goughnour, a farmer residing about two miles north of East Conemaugh, and one of the oldest citizens of Cambria county, met with a sudden and violent death at the crossing between East Conemaugh and Woodvale on Saturday, the 21st ult. A freight train had been standing on the track, and pulled out just as Mr. Goughnour arrived. He waited until the train passed the crossing, and proceeded on, not noticing the passenger train, when the engine struck him on the side, raising him several feet from the ground, and, falling, his head struck the rails, fracturing his skull and otherwise bruising and lacerating his person in a terrible manner. A number of workmen near at hand saw the approaching danger and called loudly to him, but in consequence of his age and the noise of the cars he failed to notice the warning. Death was instantaneous. The deceased was 80 years of age.

—Two hundred years have passed away since Penn landed in this country and gave his name to what is now the wealthiest State in the Union. What instrumentality gave our State its wealth and the prestige and power which wealth brings? Briefly, it was this: The Republican party legislated in such a wise manner as to encourage the investment of capital in the development of her magnificent mineral resources and in starting her extensive manufactories. Let those who attend the Bi-Centennial learn the lesson—not to make the mistake of delivering the executive power of the State over to a party which has proved itself dangerous to prosperity and good government.

Neighborhood News.

The Democracy of Blair couny are indulging in a bitter fight.

Small-pox has disappeared from Houtzdale.

Clearfield hunters are complaining of a scarcity of game.

A Houtzdale man's idea of improving the streets of that town is to put "more dirt" on them.

Osceola Presbyterians are talking about putting some desirable improvements on their church building.

The Osceola Reveille is of the opinion that when the devil goes around gathering up his jewels he will scoop up a bonanza in that region.

The Catholic church at Osceola was appropriately dedicated to the worship of Almighty God on Saturday, the 8th ult. It is a handsome edifice.

An Osceola husband and father went home the other night, hitone of his children on the head with a poker, chased his wife out of the house with an ax and ended by flourishing a revolver at her. Does anybody ask what ailed the man? Of course not, everybody knows.

Look Out for Him.

On Monday a fine looking young fellow, representing himself as F. H. Stern, of the Logan House, this city, registered at the Zimmerman house in Greensburg, stating that he was the traveling agent of a lace establishment in Pittsburg. The description given of him is that he is probably five feet four inches in height, no whiskers, wears glasses, smokes cigarettes, sports a small black hat and is more than an ordinary billiard player. The fellow had a smooth tongue, and in the evening, about 5 o'clock, after banking hours he suddenly became aware that he had to come to this city. He asked Mr. Highberger to advance him $15 on a check, which he could get cashed in the morning, and to send him the change after keeping his lodging out to Altoona. The check was a fraud, and now Mr. Highberger offers $25 reward for the arrest of Stern, who he says is a Jew. —Altoona Tribune of October 25.

Fine Crayon Portrait.

The visitors to the law and insurance office of R. M. Magee, of this place, are at once attracted to a superb crayon portrait which hangs in a good light above the desk usually occupied by that gentleman. Those who are acquainted with Benjamin F. Hunter, Esq., candidate for the legislature, at once recognizes it as a portrait of that gentleman and say it is an excellent likeness. They are greatly surprised to learn that it was executed by his son, Robert Hunter, who is quite a young gentleman and never had the advantage of any instruction in crayon drawing, his artistic training in this respect being limited to the ordinary lead pencil drawing as it is taught in the public schools and one year in State College. His father will probably send him to a school of art to cultivate the artistic talent with which he is so richly endowed.

The Synod on Prohibition.

The Presbyterian Synod, which was in session at Harrisburg last week, adjourned on Monday, the 23d ult. At the afternoon session of Monday, the following resolution was adopted:

That this synod authorizes the stated clerk to correct the false statement in the daily press as to its action on the subject of temperance and to say that the synod, without reference to political organizations but acting in the fear of God and in the interests of our common humanity, passed the resolutions unanimously and by a rising vote.

Precious Hope—Peruna.

One morning while he (her husband) was holding her up in order that she could breathe more easily, after having struggled with a bad spell of coughing, he made the remark that he did not believe that she would ever get well, when she in her weakness, said: "Yes, I will, if you will bring Dr. Hartman." The doctor was brought. He prescribed a teaspoonful of Peruna every hour. She began to improve from the first dose she took. She told me to-day that she has never felt better in her life than she does now, and that she cannot say too much for Peruna.

A. J. MILLER.

Her husband writes: "South Chicago, Ill., Dec. 19, 1881: I have a living witness of the virtue of Peruna in my wife, who was saved from death by it. I certify that every word on page 30 in Dr. Hartman's book on the "Ills of Life" is true in every particular. T. S. EBERLINE.

—The Philadelphia Record is of the opinion that it would not be dignified for ex-U. S. Senator Wm. A. Wallace to accept the nomination of Senator as tendered him. Bless us, Mr. Record, Democratic politicians never stand upon their dignity. They want a better foundation than that.

I will now state that I made a miraculous cure of one of the worst cases of skin disease known. The patient is a man forty years old; had suffered fifteen years. His eyes, scalp and nearly his whole body presented a frightful appearance. Had had the attention of twelve different physicians, who prescribed the best remedies known to the profession, such as iodide potassium, arsenic, corrosive sublimate, sarsaparilla, etc. Had paid $500 for medical treatment with but little relief. I prevailed upon him to use Cuticura Resolvent internally, and the Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally. He did so and was completely cured. The skin on his head, face, and many other parts of his body, which presented a most loathsome appearance, is now as soft and smooth as an infant's, with no scar or trace of the disease left behind. He has now been cured twelve months.
Reported by F. H. BROWN, Esq., Barnwell, S. C.

SCROFULA SORE.

Rev. Dr. ——, in detailing his experience with the Cuticura Remedies, said that through Divine Providence one of his parishioners was cured of a scrofulous sore, which was slowly draining away his life, by the Cuticura Resolvent internally, and Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally. The poison that had led the disease was completely driven out.

ECZEMA.

Sixteen months since an eruption broke out on my legs and both feet, which turned out to be Eczema, and caused me great pain and annoyance. I tried various remedies with no good results, until I used the Cuticura Resolvent internally, and Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally, which entirely cured me so that my skin is as smooth and natural as ever.

MANHOOD

How Lost, How Restored!

Just published, a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical cure of SPERMATORRHŒA or Seminal weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, IMPOTENCY, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by Self-indulgence or sexual extravagance, &c.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self abuse may be radically cured; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

—Lewisburg expects to have an axe factory.

—Chestnuting excursions are now the most attractive recreation.

—There were no services in the Methodist church Sunday evening.

—The 5 p. m. train on Saturday was about two hours and a-half late.

—If cars are scarce, exclaims the Altoona Tribune, where in this vast region of smoke are they?

—Wedding cards are to be of a very large size this season. Wedding cakes, however, will be small.

—General Beaver led the second brigade in person during the military parade in Philadelphia on Friday.

—Mr. James Brooks, the six-cent milk man, will teach school this winter, his younger brother serving his patrons with the lacteal fluid.

—The Presbyterian sociable or mite society, was held last Friday evening at the residence of Edmund Blanchard, Esq., on High street.

—The sea was very turbulent when Mrs. Langtry came over because old Neptune wanted to impress the beauty with the belief that he was a heavy swell.

—Lieut. R. Wilson Petriken was killed on the 15th inst., by Indians, in Mexico. His remains were brought to Benezette, Elk county, for interment.

—The L. H. Journal laments because its political candidates are unfortunate. Cease your lamentations, friend; the Philadelphia Times is "in the same box."

—A new perfume called "Kissme" is advertised. When an experienced clerk asks a pretty young lady what she will have and she says "Kissme," he—well, put yourself in his place.

—About one hundred and fifty people followed the remains of the late Louis Haas to the grave Sunday afternoon. He was interred in the Union Cemetery on Howard street.

—We regret to hear of the death on Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock of George Harris Curtin, infant son of Mr. James B. Curtin. The little one was about a year old. We sympathize with the afflicted parents.

—Two services will be held every Sunday hereafter in the Reformed church—in the morning at 10.30 and in the evening at 7 o'clock. This announcement is necessary, as heretofore only one Sunday service has been held.

—Sunday night was very dark, fair Luna not making her appearance until about 9 o'clock. The street lamps were not lighted, however, and people were allowed to make their way along over poor pavements as best they could.

—Says the Renovo correspondent of the L. H. Express: "Edward A. Glenn, an enterprising young business man of this place, was united in marriage on Wednesday, October 25, at Snow Shoe, to a leading young belle of that town."

—The comet is a mysterious object to the astronomers. It is also a source of annoyance to those people who do not like to get out of bed so early in the morning, but who think that they must see it because it is "all the rage" to look at comets.

—The Democrats of this Senatorial district have no regularly nominated candidate for Senator and don't know exactly what to do in regard to the matter. There is some talk of reconvening the conference, in which case D. G. Bush, Esq., will probably be the man.

—The Baptist denomination will hereafter hold their services in the audience room of the Y. M. C. A., as the owner of the Bush Arcade, in which they now meet, proposes to change the interior of that building from its present arrangement into a suite of rooms.

—We are informed that a new telegraph line is to be extended into this place, and that arrangements are already being made to put up the wires. Let them come, boys; competition is the life of trade; and the more competing lines we have the merrier will be our messages.

—There is nothing that could add in a greater degree to the beauty of Bellefonte than a larger number of shade streets. Linn, Allegheny and Spring streets should be bordered with trees on either side from end to end. As it is, there is a scarcity of really fine, symmetrical trees of this description.

A WORD OF WARNING.

How a Democratic Victory will Effect the Business Interests of Centre County.

We have not thought for an instant that the Regular Republican ticket in Pennsylvania will be defeated at the polls on November 7—the Republicans take too much pride in the principles and record of their party to allow any internal troubles to divide their strength. But it is quite evident that the situation is not fully comprehended and the disastrous effect a chance Democratic victor will have on all branches of business is not appreciated. But, by singular good fortune, the Democratic victory in Ohio occurred just in time to awaken Republicans from their apathy and to show them what will occur if the result of the election in this State is the same.

In Ohio the Democrats gained five Congressmen, reducing the Republican majority in Congress one-half. Instantly, business interests were disturbed. When the intelligence of a Democratic victory was confirmed prices were immediately affected to the extent of millions of dollars. It is true Secretary Folger indicated as much in his letter to Albany, but we did not think seriously of it. But, when we are told by the manufacturers of iron that that product—constituting the principal wealth of this county—has fallen in price five dollars per ton the announcement is one of portentious import to every citizen, but it is nothing compared to what will follow if the work in Ohio is repeated in Pennsylvania and New York. The effect in Centre county alone will be appalling.

If values depreciate at this rate the wages of labor will correspondingly decrease. What does that decrease of five dollars per ton on iron represent? There are 2,000 men employed in the iron manufactories of Centre county, and 10,000 persons fed with the money realized from the sale of iron and ore. One thousand tons of iron ore and a correspondingly large quantity of manufactured iron is shipped from this county every day. If the values of these articles depreciate at this rate the return in money will be lessened at the rate of thousands of dollars per day. An ominous sign of the times is found in the fact that last week two hundred laborers were discharged from the mines at Scotia. We merely wish to call the attention of our readers to these things, and will not even seem to paint the picture in any worse light than the plain facts represent them. But what is the remedy? It is this:

Do not give the Democratic free-trade party, whose success in Ohio has wrought this ruin, the benefit of a single vote by casting it for any other than the Regular Republican ticket. The entire State ticket and all the Republican Congressmen must be elected to give business the stability which it had five weeks ago. Do not vote for a Democrat merely because he has made a fair city clerk, and do not diminish the strength of the Republican ticket by casting a ballot for disappointed Republican office-seekers who have banded together under the appellation of Independent Republicans, but who are really performing no other work than to aid in bringing about a free-trade Democratic victory.

Burglary at Pleasant Gap.

The establishment of Mr. Gottlieb Hagg, at Pleasant Gap, was entered on Thursday night, October 19, and burglarized to the extent of $50 in money and two valuable smoke pipes. Entrance was effected through an outside cellar door and from thence into the room above. The money was taken from a money drawer in which it had been placed the previous day. He had provided himself with this amount of ready cash in anticipation of a visit from a traveling man to whom he expected to pay it, but who did not put in appearance. The same parties also entered the house of Mr. John Barnes, toll-gate keeper at that place, and also the house of his son, Robert Barnes, without, however, obtaining sufficient booty at the two last mentioned places to pay them for the risk they run. Suspicion rests upon certain well-known parties whose names it is not proper to make public.

—In addition to the erection of the new building between the Bush Arcade and the Wagner residence, our friend, D. G. Bush, Esq., is also extending the Arcade building back fifteen feet. He commenced operations on the latter improvement on Monday, the 23d, Mr. Perry Steele, the veteran architect, having the work in charge. The extension will benefit all the tenants of the Arcade building as it will increase the dimensions of their store rooms. The extension, also, being constructed on an improved plan, will give the tenants the benefit of more light than they now receive.

Philipsburg Pickings.

Improvements are being made as fast as the circumstances permit.

Mr. W. T. Bair, of the Journal, attended the "Bi."

Miss Lalla Klinger, of Bellefonte, visited Mrs. Jack Gorion, of Philipsburg, a few days ago. She returned home on Saturday.

A Japanese cafe was recently given in Potter's Hall, Philipsburg, for the benefit of the M. E. church. The ladies having the affair in charge were dressed in genuine Japanese costumes and gave each visitor a present in the shape of a small china cup and saucer. All in all, it was one of the most delightful affairs of the season.

The new iron bridge near Osceola was completed and ready for use on Friday.

The new telephone line running between Philipsburg and Tyrone will be finished in a few days. When completed it will give the people of Philipsburg direct communication with Tyrone, Altoona, Cresson, Huntingdon, Hollidaysburg and intervening points.

Philipsburg will enjoy the peculiar bliss of a Democratic meeting this (Wednesday) evening, ex-Governor Curtin and Hon. Samuel J. Randall being the orators. However, the Republicans got their work in first in a rousing meeting held last Saturday evening, the speakers being Hon. J. Warren Keifer, of Ohio, and Hon. Thad. M. Mahon, of Chambersburg, Pa.

W. H. McCausland, a resident of Philipsburg, shot a fine deer a few days ago, the first of the season for that section.

The Boys.

It is well to keep the boys home at night, and to do this, simple means of diversion and recreation for the mind after a day of study or work should be provided. Parents should also take a half hour of each evening for conversation with their children, giving such direction to the conversation that they can indulge in it freely and providing also that it shall contain something which will increase the range of knowledge of the youthful mind. This will tend also to aid the children in cultivating what is usually conceded to be a lost art—conversation. To supplement this they should be allowed to spend a short time in some of the numerous instructive and entertaining games which modern inventive genius has provided for their benefit.

It is a fact to be regretted that street education is ruining many of our smartest and finest boys. They are allowed to run the streets at night until ten or eleven o'clock, and being young they learn every species of evil with a rapidity that is astonishing. It is true that means and money have been expended to off set this in the Boys' Branch organization and the reading room for boys, and those agencies have, we believe, done much to decrease an evil which a few months ago was more alarming than at present. It is the duty of every good citizen to use his influence to bring all the boys who are allowed too much liberty during the evening hours under the benign influence of these agencies. In doing this they will accomplish good work for the future of our town.

Qualifications of Electors.

Misunderstanding in regard to the qualifications of electors exists and for the correction of any false impressions we give the following compilation of the law in regard to elections, etc., from the third edition of the Pennsylvania election laws for 1874, showing who are entitled to vote:

Every male citizen, 21 years of age who shall have been a citizen, at least one month and shall have been a resident of this State over one year—or having been, previously, a qualified elector or native born citizen of the State, and shall have removed therefrom and returned, then six months immediately preceding the election.

He shall reside in the election district where he shall offer to vote at least two months immediately preceding the election.

If twenty-two years of age or upwards, he shall have paid within two years a State or county tax, which shall have been assessed at least two months, and paid at least one month before the election. Page 96, section 1.

A bet on an election does not deprive the person who makes the bet of the right to vote.

—Wheat sowing is over, for the season. There has been a large number of acres sown, and if the crop should prove as fruitful next year as it was this, it will be the source of much wealth to the country.

—Madden & Cary's Humpty Dumpty troupe stopped at the Brockerhoff House.

It is Said—

That a small boy slipped off a Bishop street crossing on Saturday and was drowned.

That an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure, therefore in order to prevent the Keystone from going to the dogs in '84 vote for Beaver for Governor.

That Independents are scarcer than horned hogs in Pennsvalley.

That Bi-Centennial literature is becoming a bore to newspaper readers.

That S. D. Ray, as a campaign stumper, can knock the independence out of a Stewart man in just four minutes, railroad time.

That the cause of the briefness of Indian summer has been traced to the Democratic success in Ohio.

That too much comet-gazing on foggy mornings has rendered a Spring street woman cross-eyed.

That the Independents are beginning to consider the question, why they should make asses of themselves by voting for Stewart and helping to elect a rank Democrat Governor of this great State?

That the Republican corps of campaign roosters are rehearsing daily for the grand crow the morning after election.

That the South ward baby who took varnish in place of soothing syrup will pull through.

That the Co. B boys received many an admiring glance from the Quaker City damsels, on their recent trip.

That P. Gray Meek has told the Democratic State Committee all he knows about Beaver, and more, too, and is now about ready to come home.

Presentation to Rev. Geo. Penepacker.

An interesting event took place in the lecture room of the Methodist church last Wednesday evening after the usual devotional exercises were over. Without further ceremony other than to request the congregation to remain in their seats, Mr. Q. A. Daniels stepped forward and presented Rev. Mr. Penepacker with a copy of the "People's Cyclopædia," in the interest of which Rev. A. J. Myers is now canvassing the county. Of course, his words were appropriate and well expressed. The gift was an entire surprise to Rev. Mr. Penepacker, but he responded in his usual happy vein, accepting the beautiful gift not alone for its intrinsic value, but also because it represented the affectionate feelings of the congregation for him.

The Senatorial Candidate.

The L. H. Express speaks as follows of Cyrus Gordon, Esq., the Republican Senatorial candidate of this district:

Mr. Gordon is about 35 years old, born and raised in Centre county. He belongs to one of the old, respected and honored families of that county. He is a graduate of the State College, has been practicing law in Clearfield county for about ten years, and is a partner of Thos. H. Murray, Esq., well and favorably known throughout this district.

Mr. Gordon has always been a Republican—but has never taken an active part in politics, preferring to devote himself to his profession. He is a genial, sociable gentleman, and among the young men, stands at the head of the Clearfield bar. He is particularly popular among the masses of the working people,—liberal to the poor—and has always been correct in his deportment. It is a good selection, and the voters of this district can rally to his support.

Death of Louis Haas.

Frday morning at half-past five o'clock Mr. Louis Haas, a well known citizen of Roopsburg, a short distance from Bellefonte, breathed his last. He had been ill for quite a long time. He was the proprietor of a large brewery and distillery at Roopsburg, which he had conducted for many years and had acquired considerable wealth. His widow and five children—two sons and three daughters—survive to mourn his loss. He was a brother-in-law of Mr. John Anderson, proprietor of the restaurant opposite the Bush House in this place.

Mr. Haas was 62 years of age. He was born in the month of May, 18 0. He came to this county from Harrisburg in 1857. The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

—It is said that the band of wannering Nomads who made this vicinity their camping ground for two or three days past attempted on one or two occasions to stop travelers, ostensibly with the intention of robbing them. But in the instance which came to our notice the horse driven by the gentlemen whom they attempted to stop became so frightened at the odd appearance of the gypsies that it ran away. The driver did not attempt to stop the animal's course until a safe distance had been reached. It is also said in regard to the gypsies that one of the babies was taken to the Roman Catholic priest for the rite of baptism, which, we have no doubt, it received.

Gypsies.

A company of gypsies are encamped in this vicinity and strolling members of the band made frequent visits to town last week. Their dress is said to be quite grotesque. The place of their encampment for two or three days past was Armor's wood, but at noon on Friday the motley crowd moved through town and wended their way out the Lewistown turnpike. There were four women and a countless number of young babies packed tightly in bags with their heads exposed from the openings. They were either carried on the backs of the women or strapped on a couple of mules which also accompanied them. Men with bears and monkeys followed. As the women passed along they stopped at every house on the way for the purpose of begging something to eat. The women were bare-footed, but did not seem to shrink from the contact of their feet with the damp, cold ground.

Several men and boys connected with the band made their appearance upon the streets of this place Friday morning accompanied by four bears and a monkey. They presented a novel spectacle. The bears danced and assumed almost any posture commanded by their attendants. The principal part of each performance was the collection of pennies, nickles and dimes.

Personal Pencilings.

James Milliken, Esq., is at the Continental Hotel, Philadelphia.

Dr. J. F. Larimer, of Lock Haven, was at the Bush House last Thurday.

Mr. Edward Graham is again waiting on customers behind the counter in Valentines' store.

Mrs. H. K. Hicks is enjoying a visit from her cousin, Miss Hannah Marshall, of West Chester.

Dr. Augustus Hibler is at home again after witnessing the opening demonstrations of the "Bi."

Mrs. Nannie Dare and her son, George, witnessed the "Bi," as it was celebrated in the Quaker City.

Mr. Jesse Stewart, who has the contract for the mason work on the new building now being erected by D. G. Bush, Esq., is pushing operations along rapidly, the foundation having already been commenced.

—Did you ever hear two married women take leave of each other at the gate on a mild evening? This is how they do it: "Good by!" "Good-by! Come down and see us soon." "I will, goodby!" "Goodby!" "Don't forget to come soon." "No, I won't. Don't you forget to come up." "I won't. Be sure and bring Sarah Jane with you the next time." "I will. I'd have brought her this time, but she wasn't very well. She wanted to come awfully." "Did she, now? That was too bad! Be sure and bring her next time." "I will, and you be sure and bring baby." "I will—I forgot to tell you he's cut another tooth." "You don't say so! How many has he now?" "Five. It makes him awful cross." "I dare say it does this weather." "Well, goodby! Don't forget to come down." "I won't. Don't you forget to come up. Goodby!" And they separated.

—James Harris & Co., hardware merchants, have recently started a new enterprise in the shape of a very complete tin shop. For that purpose a frame structure has been erected in the rear of their store, containing a room for the reception and display of stoves on the first floor and a tin shop above, over which Mr. George Wolf, an expert tinsmith, presides. They are now doing a very large business in the sale of stoves and tinware and make a specialty of repairing neatly and expeditiously. Even James Potter, junior member of the firm, is learning how to make stovepipe and absolutely made an entire joint, unaided, a few days ago.

—Thanksgiving comes late this year. The day appointed by the President is Thursday, November 30, the last day of the month. By that time the Democrats will have recovered from their disappointment of defeat and can unite with their brethren of other political faiths in returning thanks to Him who giveth victory to the right.

—No farmer or dweller in the country should neglect to gather some of the many medicine herbs at this season of the year. Many times these, when intelligently used, will save "sending for the doctor."

—As game is reported scarce in the woods we suggest that Bellefonte sportsmen try their hand at cat hunting on Linn street. The harvest is abundant in that quarter of town, and the sport would be both lively and a-mews-ing. Go for 'em.

—It is said that the planet Venus is now visible during daylight.

Another Charge Contradicted.

EDITOR NEWS: Mr. John Dale, of Centre Hall, the person whom Gen. Beaver is accused in the Watchman of the 20th inst., of having ordered back to the stable at the Lewistown encampment, in a manner calculated to wound his feelings, informed me on last Monday, that the story was wholly untrue and that it was unauthorized by him. He also told me that though he is a Democrat he does not relish the use of his name as authority for a slander upon General Beaver.

This incident serves to show the desperate straits to which General Beaver's maligners are reduced.

Respectfully,

Bellefonte, Pa., D. S. KELLER.
Oct. 28, '82.

—This (Wednesday) is All Saints Day. Services will be held in the Episcopal church both morning and evening. At the evening service a collection will be received towards the $1,000,000 American Church Fund, which it is hoped to have completed at the time of the celebration of the centennial of the Episcopal church in America, which will be next year.
